Miami Trace Board Invited To Discussion

Terhune Says City Seeks to Cooperate On Mutual Problems

Doors of Washington C. H. High School, which were "closed but not locked" early last spring to all students living outside the district, have been opened again—but just a crack.

The Washington C. H. School Board, at its regular meeting Monday night, agreed that it could accept "a limited number of additional high school students" and invited the Miami Trace School Board members to meet with it Thursday evening to discuss the situation.

The Washington C. H. board came to its conclusion to open the "closed but not locked" doors after a lengthy discussion of the detailed prospective enrollment figures submitted by John Trace, principal of the high school.

THE BOARD'S proposal is "another offer of the city board to cooperate with the Miami Trace Board to work out both schools' problems together," Robert Terhune, president of the Washington C. H. board said after the meeting.

He explained that "we know they must have some problems and overcrowding (this was noted in the letter of invitation to meet) and if we can help we want to. Our first responsibility is to the people and the children, whether they live in the city or not."

He also pointed out that when the doors were "closed but not locked" last spring the board had no definite figures on enrollment or the distribution of students in classes such as it now has. When these figures were compiled, he added, it was found it would be possible to take "around 76" students from outside the Washington C. H. district.

IT WAS emphasized at the meeting that the students—if they are sent to the Washington C. H. High School—would come on an assignment basis with the district taking care of the tuition. "Any acceptance (Please turn to page two)

Green Hills, Ariz., recently sprouted a newspaper editor-publisher in the person of 11-year-old Terri Ann Hard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hard, formerly of Washington C. H., and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hard and Roy Lunbeck.

The Green Hills Gazette, a two-page mimeographed sheet is published weekly for the people of Terri Ann's neighborhood.

The traditional editorial spirit shows through in this small item: "Someone suggested cleaning up the Speedway entrance to Green Hills. The houses are so nice why not make the entrance look nice too?"

Recently in obtaining some information regarding Daniel B. Wendel, former local civil engineer who had a prominent part in surveying and locating the Great Northern Railroad, I discovered that in the same class graduating from the Washington C. H. High School in 1881 was another local man who became an engineer.

The second man was Dr. James Silcott, who assisted in making the survey to establish the B&O Railroad (Newark division) through Fayette County and Ohio, and engineered the spanning of the valley at Orient with the highest trestle on the B&O system in Ohio.

Dr. Silcott later became a dentist and practiced in Cincinnati for many years. Daniel Wendel was a brother of Mrs. Bruce Carpenter of Columbus and died some 30 years ago.

I was interested in a list of the other graduates in the class of '81 printed on a purple ribbon and now in the possession of Mrs. Carpenter. They were: Anna Saxton, Mary Hess, Edward P. Leever, Comly Ogbe, John P. Maynard, Eva M. Grove, Candace Mathews, Jessie F. Garis, Jessie A. Bell, Florence S. Radcliffe, Lucy Gillespie, Josie Dews, Lizzie Evans, O. Scott Hopkins and John S. Maryland Dems Pick Mahoney

He'll Make Race In Tydings' Place

BALTIMORE (AP)—George P. Mahoney, who narrowly lost the Democratic primary last May, has been picked to replace the ailing Millard E. Tydings as the party's candidate for the U. S. Senate.

The state Democratic committee, by a 97-55 vote, selected the 54-year-old Baltimore contractor over Mrs. Eleanor Tydings, wife of the former senator and daughter of former U. S. Ambassador to Russia Joseph E. Davies.

Early today, Mahoney said he would revive the bitter 1950 campaign between Tydings and Republican Sen. John Marshall Butler as an issue.

"I'm going to take out after Butler throughout this state and make sure the people know about the fraud perpetrated on Tydings six years ago," he said.

Committee members were urged by Mrs. Tydings' supporters to name her so she might carry on her husband's vengeance campaign against Butler.

TYDINGS, WHO served 24 straight years in the Senate, was ousted by Butler in a bitter campaign for which Butler's side was reprimanded by a Senate elections subcommittee. It said "Backstreet type" tactics were used.

Singled out for criticism was a fake photograph—a composite—purporting to show Tydings in amiable conversation with Earl Browder, Communist party chief.

Since his defeat, Tydings has publicly charged Butler with lacking "the manhood to denounce" use of the picture.

After Tydings withdrew Aug. 19, Mahoney immediately claimed a "moral right" to the nomination. Anti-Mahoney forces, led by Mayor Thomas D'Alessandro of Baltimore, swung their support to National Committee member Michael J. Birmingham.

It was an odd political switch, for Birmingham had been Mahoney's primary campaign manager.

The trio was arrested by Chillicothe police, about 4 a. m., Tuesday about four hours after the burglary here. Police in Chillicothe halted the

Dulles Says Reds Hurt Canal Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today Russia has been waging a propaganda campaign to make it extremely difficult for Egyptian President Nasser to negotiate a satisfactory settlement of the Suez Canal crisis.

Dulles told a news conference that Nasser's agreement today to receive a committee from the recent London conference to talk about the Suez problem constitutes a contribution toward a peaceful solution.

The Soviet Union, Dulles said, stood out alone among the 22 nations which attended the London Suez conference as a country which was not trying to find a way to reach a peaceful solution.

Eighteen of the 22 nations which attended the London meeting proposed that an international board run the 103-mile canal.

A minority plan, submitted by India at the conference and supported by the Soviet Union, Ceylon and Indonesia, would leave the canal under Egyptian control and provide an international board with advisory powers only.

DULLES SAID that on the very morning he was trying to explain a U. S. proposal for peaceful settlement to Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov in London, Soviet propaganda was carrying on a vicious campaign among the Arabs against a settlement between Nasser and the West.

The Soviets argued that the plan advocated by Dulles—and finally accepted as the majority plan at the conference—was simply a device for reimposing colonialism on Egypt.

In discussing the Suez problem, Dulles implied that the United States was ready to negotiate on any kind of arrangement for the canal's future which would be broadly acceptable to other countries.

Dulles said he thought negotiations on the canal have moved forward steadily.

While the difficulties are by no means overcome, he said, he believes the steps which have been taken indicate a desire to reach a peaceful solution.

IN RESPONSE to a question, Dulles appeared to challenge former President Harry Truman's recent recollection of what happened at the 1945 Potsdam conference with respect to the Panama Canal.

Truman said recently that he had offered at Potsdam to internationalize the Panama Canal as part of a program for establishing international assurances over many key waterways but that the Soviet government was not then interested.

Asked about this Dulles said that as far as the records disclose, and he had made a search himself, there was no such offer made.

Probe Slaying Of Convict in Penitentiary

COLUMBUS (AP)—"Personal revenge," growing out of an immoral act committed seven years ago, was the motive in the hammer slaying of an Ohio penitentiary inmate, the state highway patrol reported today.

Patrol Capt. F. C. Moon said Glen Smith, 23, of Springfield, 19, has admitted killing James Nichols, 33, also of Springfield, Monday in the prison yard.

Capt. Moon said the immoral act took place in February, 1949, when both men were in the Clark County jail.

He said Smith was only 16 at the time. There had been little or no contact between the two men since then, he added.

Smith beat Nichols on the head with a hammer Monday after he rushed from the prison print shop where he was working.

Nichols died in the prison hospital 21 minutes after the attack. Nichols was one of 12 men indicted March 23, 1953, for rioting and malicious destruction of property in connection with the million-dollar Halloween riot and fire in 1952 at the prison.

Nichols was paroled last Jan. 26 but was returned last May 14 as a parole violator. At a hearing in June his parole was revoked until May, 1958.

Nichols had originally entered the penitentiary in June 1949 for safe tampering in Clark County. He had served a previous sentence for burglary in Montana.

Smith had been in the penitentiary since June 30, 1954, when he was sentenced from Cincinnati for armed robbery. He is serving a 10 to 25 year sentence.

Adlai Appeals for Precinct Support

SANTA FE, N. M. (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, hitting hard at the importance of organizing at the precinct level, headed today for the northwest on the second leg of a whirlwind pre-campaign tour.

The next stop for the Democratic presidential nominee and his running mate, Sen. Estes Kefauver, was Portland, Ore. Then, after a motor trip to Bonneville Dam, they are to confer with party leaders from Washington, Oregon, Montana, Idaho and Utah.

By nightfall they are to be on the way again, taking off in their chartered plane for Sioux City, Iowa.

The first of a series of powwows with Democratic leaders was held here Monday, and afterward Stevenson pronounced it "even more satisfactory than I thought was possible."

"The enthusiasm and the spirit of the party in the southwest has exhilarated me," he told newsmen.

THE CONFERENCE, largely given over to campaign tactics at the unglamorous working level, brought together representatives of these seven states—New Mexico, Colorado, Arkansas, Wyoming, Texas, Oklahoma and Arizona.

Most of these states, with 57 electoral votes, are normally Democratic, but in 1952 President Eisenhower carried all of them except Arkansas.

Stevenson bluntly told the conference that the Democrats have "a man-sized job" on their hands to win in the November election and that party workers were going to have to roll up their sleeves and labor in the precincts.

"This election is going to be won or lost depending on what is done in the precincts," he said. "And when I say won or lost, I mean won."

The present series of regional meetings is designed to lay the groundwork at the grass roots for the speech-making campaign that Stevenson and Kefauver will launch next month.

Stevenson said that while he does not intend to attack Eisenhower personally, he is going to make an issue of the way in which the President has conducted his office and what he called the present "failure of leadership."

SLIGHTLY OVER 90 political leaders were on hand from the seven states in the area for the Santa Fe conference.

Stevenson said they discussed such issues as water, agriculture, Indian affairs, "hard money," schools, health and taxation.

They also spent a lot of time talking about campaign funds and precinct organization.

One point emphasized was that a shift of 851,000 votes in 14 states would have given Stevenson a victory over Eisenhower in the election four years ago.

The 14 states listed: Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Maryland, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Missouri, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Texas and Washington.

However, Stevenson said he wasn't going to concentrate his campaign on just those 14 states but would seek to triumph in the popular vote as well as the electoral college vote.

Kefauver called the Santa Fe meeting "a great start for our campaign." He said that if he and Stevenson were received with "the same enthusiasm everywhere, there can be no question" about the outcome of the November election.

Ike Flies Back To Washington After Vacation

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—President Eisenhower reported in good condition by his doctor, ends a west coast vacation today and flies back to Washington to map second term campaign strategy and resume government business conferences.

Relaying word from Eisenhower's physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen the President's stay at the Cypress Point Club in this resort area has done him a great deal of good.

"The doctor says the President is feeling fine and is in good condition," Hagerty said.

Eisenhower arrived here last Thursday evening a few hours after accepting nomination for a second term at the closing session of the Republican national convention in San Francisco.

Since then there have been these developments regarding the President's health:

1. Hagerty has stated the doctors now feel Eisenhower's convalescence from major abdominal surgery which he underwent June 9 is at an end.

2. His weight, which fell off to about 157 pounds while he was hospitalized in June, climbed back to the presurgery level for the first time last week. As of four days ago he tipped the scales at 168½, a half pound more than he weighed when he entered the hospital.

3. He has resumed playing full rounds of golf, a favorite recreation which always is a good yardstick of how the President is feeling.

He has played 18 holes at the tough Cypress Point course each day for the last four. The range was four to 16 holes on any one day before he came to picturesque Pebble Beach.

IN ADVANCE of Eisenhower's departure, Hagerty still was steadfastly refusing to discuss politics and the coming campaign. And he insisted the President had put politics out of his mind during his vacation.

"There will be plenty of time for that after we get back to Washington," Hagerty said.

Baby Nurse For 12 Years, She Admits Shaking 3 To Death

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Police say a 220-pound pediatric nurse has admitted shaking to death three infants because they got on her nerves or refused to take their formula.

"It was all uncontrollable," Virginia B. Jaspers, 33-year-old daughter of a county official, told the coroner. "I didn't know why I did it. Children sometimes get on my nerves."

Miss Jaspers, who is six feet tall, also admitted breaking the leg of another infant and inflicting a head injury on a fifth, said Coroner James J. Corrigan.

A private pediatric nurse for 12 years, she often lived in with the parents of the children and was not connected with a hospital.

Police said the deaths dated back to 1948. Miss Jaspers was taken into custody as the result of the death Thursday of the 11-day-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Kapsinow of New Haven.

Police Chief Francis V. McManus quoted her as saying she shook the infant violently because it refused its formula.

The Kapsinows thought their child had died of natural causes.

Red China Sends Note on Attack

Peiping Negative on Chance of Survivors

WASHINGTON (AP)—Communist China has informed the United States Red Chinese planes shot down an aircraft off the China coast last Thursday and that apparently there are no survivors.

Secretary of State Dulles reported today the Peiping regime contends, however, that the plane downed was a Chinese Nationalist plane.

A U. S. Navy Mercator patrol plane, with a 16 man crew, has been missing since Thursday (Tokyo time) after reporting it was under attack off Red China's coast.

U. S. searchers have found wreckage and the body of one crewman, with bullet wounds.

At a news conference, Dulles said that in answer to an American inquiry through the British embassy in Peiping, Red China has conceded only that Chinese air force fighters did shoot down a plane in that general area about the time mentioned.

Sewer Gas Falls 5 At Disposal Plant

SALEM (AP)—Sewer gas overcame five men at the city disposal plant here late Monday, and one of them, Ivan Lowe, 22, was in critical condition at Central Clinic.

The other men overcome were Paul Sweeney, 25, of Salineville; Don Riley, 26, Salem; and Ernest Taylor, 35, and William Taylor, 23, of Cleveland.

Sweeney was the first to be overcome when he opened a valve at the bottom of a 12-foot pit he was cleaning. One at a time, the others went to his help and were also overcome.

One-Day Record Broken at Fair

COLUMBUS (AP)—Sam Cashman, Ohio State Fair manager, has reported every one-day attendance record in the history of the fair was shattered Sunday when 150,491 persons jammed the grounds.

He said the previous top attendance was in the sesquicentennial year of 1953 when 123,408 attended. That mark also was made on a Sunday.

Paid admissions for Sunday were 99,991 compared with the 1953 record of 74,480.

In addition to Sunday's paid figures, the overall attendance included: 50,000 children, 7,500 for Press Day, 4,000 armed forces members and 5,000 admitted for youth activities.

Sends Letter of Acceptance to Committee Head

Egypt's President Fails To Specify Any Place, Date

LONDON (AP)—Egypt agreed today to meet with a committee charged with presenting a proposal for international control of the Suez Canal but made no commitment to accept the plan.

President Nasser made known his willingness to see the five-nation committee in a terse letter to its chairman, Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies of Australia. He mentioned neither time nor place for the meeting.

The letter did not bear out an earlier report from Egyptian officials that Nasser had specified Cairo as the site for the meeting.

On the strength of this report, a spokesman for the committee had indicated the members were ready to fly to Cairo almost immediately.

On getting Nasser's reply, Menzies went to 10 Downing St., residence of Prime Minister Eden where the cabinet was in session. The cabinet was informed of Nasser's reply and the meeting broke up soon after.

THE COMMITTEE was named by 18 of the 22 nations attending the recent Suez conference in London.

It was assigned the task of presenting the majority proposals to Nasser for an international board to run the canal. The plan would make Egypt a member of the board and link the agency to the United Nations.

Nasser has said that Egypt will keep the canal open to all shipping. Reports from Cairo said he would offer treaty guarantees to back up his promise.

In the background remained the key question of what the West would do next if Nasser, after meeting with the committee, still refused to yield the waterway to international control.

Britain and France are continuing to reinforce their military forces in the Eastern Mediterranean. They considered likely that a deadlock over the canal would bring economic rather than military moves against Egypt.

THE ALREADY tense situation between Britain and Egypt was whetted by the arrest in Cairo of two British subjects on charges of espionage. At least one Egyptian also was arrested and accused of being a member of an alleged spy ring.

The Britons are James Swinburn, 51, business manager of the British-owned Arab News Agency, and Charles Pittuck, an official of the Marconi radio-telegraph Co. of Egypt.

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd said he was awaiting a full report before deciding whether to file a formal protest. But a British spokesman in Cairo flatly denied the embassy there was in any way involved with the alleged spy ring.

Hundreds of wives and children of Britons working in Egypt have been evacuated since the seizure of the canal, and both Britain and France have advised all their people there to leave unless they have compelling reasons for staying.

Stevenson bluntly told the conferees that the Democrats have "a man-sized job" on their hands to win in the November election and that party workers were going to have to roll up their sleeves and labor in the precincts.

"This election is going to be won or lost depending on what is done in the precincts," he said. "And when I say won or lost, I mean won."

The present series of regional meetings is designed to lay the groundwork at the grass roots for the speech-making campaign that Stevenson and Kefauver will launch next month.

Stevenson said that while he does not intend to attack Eisenhower personally, he is going to make an issue of the way in which the President has conducted his office and what he called the present "failure of leadership."

SLIGHTLY OVER 90 political leaders were on hand from the seven states in the area for the Santa Fe conference.

Stevenson said they discussed such issues as water, agriculture, Indian affairs, "hard money," schools, health and taxation.

They also spent a lot of time talking about campaign funds and precinct organization.

One point emphasized was that a shift of 851,000 votes in 14 states would have given Stevenson a victory over Eisenhower in the election four years ago.

The 14 states listed: Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Maryland, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Missouri, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Texas and Washington.

However, Stevenson said he wasn't going to concentrate his campaign on just those 14 states but would seek to triumph in the popular vote as well as the electoral college vote.

Kefauver called the Santa Fe meeting "a great start for our campaign." He said that if he and Stevenson were received with "the same enthusiasm everywhere, there can be no question" about the outcome of the November election.

Ike Flies Back To Washington After Vacation

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—President Eisenhower reported in good condition by his doctor, ends a west coast vacation today and flies back to Washington to map second term campaign strategy and resume government business conferences.

Relaying word from Eisenhower's physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen the President's stay at the Cypress Point Club in this resort area has done him a great deal of good.

"The doctor says the President is feeling fine and is in good condition," Hagerty said.

Eisenhower arrived here last Thursday evening a few hours after accepting nomination for a second term at the closing session of the Republican national convention in San Francisco.

Since then there have been these developments regarding the President's health:

1. Hagerty has stated the doctors now feel Eisenhower's convalescence from major abdominal surgery which he underwent June 9 is at an end.

2. His weight, which fell off to about 157 pounds while he was hospitalized in June, climbed back to the presurgery level for the first time last week. As of four days ago he tipped the scales at 168½, a half pound more than he weighed when he entered the hospital.

3. He has resumed playing full rounds of golf, a favorite recreation which always is a good yardstick of how the President is feeling.

He has played 18 holes at the tough Cypress Point course each day for the last four. The range was four to 16 holes on any one day before he came to picturesque Pebble Beach.

IN ADVANCE of Eisenhower's departure, Hagerty still was steadfastly refusing to discuss politics and the coming campaign. And he insisted the President had put politics out of his mind during his vacation.

"There will be plenty of time for that after we get back to Washington," Hagerty said.

Baby Nurse For 12 Years, She Admits Shaking 3 To Death

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Police say a 220-pound pediatric nurse has admitted shaking to death three infants because they got on her nerves or refused to take their formula.

"It was all uncontrollable," Virginia B. Jaspers, 33-year-old daughter of a county official, told the coroner. "I didn't know why I did it. Children sometimes get on my nerves."

Miss Jaspers, who is six feet tall, also admitted breaking the leg of another infant and inflicting a head injury on a fifth, said Coroner James J. Corrigan.

A private pediatric nurse for 12 years, she often lived in with the parents of the children and was not connected with a hospital.

Police said the deaths dated back to 1948. Miss Jaspers was taken into custody as the result of the death Thursday of the 11-day-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Kapsnow of New Haven.

Police Chief Francis V. McManus quoted her as saying she shook the infant violently because it refused its formula.

The Kapsnows thought their child had died of natural causes.

ADMITS THEFT — Robert Drodge, a part-time unordained minister who worked weekdays as a bank teller, is lodged in Waynesburg, Pa., jail in connection with a $22,000 bank shortage. Drodge, 27, told police he gave some of the money to needy persons and used some for repairs to his home.

Red China Sends Note on Attack

Peiping Negative on Chance of Survivors

WASHINGTON (AP) — Communist China has informed the United States Red Chinese planes shot down an aircraft off the China coast last Thursday and that apparently there are no survivors.

Secretary of State Dulles reported today the Peiping regime contends, however, that the plane downed was a Chinese Nationalist plane.

A U. S. Navy Mercator patrol plane, with a 16 man crew, has been missing since Thursday (Tokyo time) after reporting it was under attack off Red China's coast.

U. S. searchers have found wreckage and the body of one crewman, with bullet wounds.

At a news conference, Dulles said that in answer to an American inquiry through the British embassy in Peiping, Red China has conceded only that Chinese air force fighters did shoot down a plane in that general area about the time mentioned.

Sewer Gas Fells 5 At Disposal Plant

SALEM (AP)—Sewer gas overcame five men at the city disposal plant here late Monday, and one of them, Ivan Lowe, 22, was in critical condition at Central Clinic.

The other men overcome were Paul Sweeney, 25, of Salsville; Don Riley, 26, Salem; and Ernest Taylor, 35, and William Taylor, 23, of Cleveland.

Sweeney was the first to be overcome when he opened a valve at the bottom of a 12-foot pit he was cleaning. One at a time, the others went to his help and were also overcome.

One-Day Record Broken at Fair

COLUMBUS (AP)—Sam Cashman, Ohio State Fair manager, has reported every one-day attendance record in the history of the fair was shattered Sunday when 150,491 persons jammed the grounds.

He said the previous top attendance was in the sesquicentennial year of 1953 when 128,408 attended. That mark also was made on a Sunday.

Paid admissions for Sunday were 90,991 compared with the 1953 record of 74,480.

In addition to Sunday's paid figures, the overall attendance included: 50,000 children, 7,500 for Press Day, 4,000 armed forces members and 5,000 admitted for youth activities.

Breaking the leg of the 3-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Schaeffer of Woodbridge in 1955.

In a jail cell, Miss Jaspers kept repeating: "How will I ever face people again?"

Sends Letter of Acceptance to Committee Head

Egypt's President Fails To Specify Any Place, Date

LONDON (AP)—Egypt agreed today to meet with a committee charged with presenting a proposal for international control of the Suez Canal but made no commitment to accept the plan.

President Nasser made known his willingness to see the five-nation committee in a terse letter to its chairman, Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies of Australia. He mentioned neither time nor place for the meeting.

The letter did not bear out an earlier report from Egyptian officials that Nasser had specified Cairo as the site for the meeting.

On the strength of this report, a spokesman for the committee had indicated the members were ready to fly to Cairo almost immediately.

On getting Nasser's reply, Menzies went to 10 Downing St., residence of Prime Minister Eden where the cabinet was in session. The cabinet was informed of Nasser's reply and the meeting broke up soon after.

THE COMMITTEE was named by 18 of the 22 nations attending the recent Suez conference in London.

It was assigned the task of presenting the majority proposals to Nasser for an international board to run the canal. The plan would make Egypt a member of the board and link the agency to the United Nations.

Nasser has said that Egypt will keep the canal open to all shipping. Reports from Cairo said he would offer treaty guarantees to back up his promise.

In the background remained the key question of what the West would do next if Nasser, after meeting with the committee, still refused to yield the waterway to international control.

Britain and France are continuing to reinforce their military forces in the Eastern Mediterranean. They considered likely that a deadlock over the canal would bring economic rather than military moves against Egypt.

THE ALREADY tense situation between Britain and Egypt was whetted by the arrest in Cairo of two British subjects on charges of espionage. At least one Egyptian also was arrested and accused of being a member of an alleged spy ring.

The Britons are James Swinburn, 51, business manager of the British-owned Arab News Agency, and Charles Pittuck, an official of the Marconi radio-telegraph Co. of Egypt.

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd said he was awaiting a full report before deciding whether to file a formal protest. But a British spokesman in Cairo flatly denied the embassy there was in any way involved with the alleged spy ring.

Hundreds of wives and children of Britons working in Egypt have been evacuated since the seizure of the canal, and both Britain and France have advised all their people there to leave unless they have compelling reasons for staying.

Four Cars Crash

CAMBRIDGE (AP)—The state highway patrol said a smashup involving four vehicles late Monday night killed Robert Oliver, 20, of Rt. 4, Cambridge. Six others were injured.

First Practice For WHS Band

27 Are Moved Up From Junior Band

The Washington C. H. marching band held its first rehearsal under its new director, Robert Neumann, at Gardner Park Monday evening. Between 60 and 70 boys and girls answered the first call, but Neumann said he expected more would be coming as the end of the summer vacation approaches.

Two more practices were scheduled for this week—Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, from 3 o'clock until time for the football squad to start its practice.

These practices, which will include both marching drills and work on music, are to be at the football practice field on Circle Ave., Neumann said. These practices are to include the majorities, he emphasized.

The new director, who succeeds William B. Clift, said he expected to put a band of around 90 pieces on the field for the first football game halftime performance.

THIS WILL be slightly smaller than the WHS Varsity bands of the last few years. This spring 29 banded in their blue and white uniforms when they were graduated. Besides, he said, 14 or 15 boys and girls who live outside the Washington C. H. school district are not being counted on for this year's band; however, Neumann made it plain that the band is open to any student who attends the high school. This obviously referred to the possibility that some rural students might be assigned to the school here.

Wednesday and Thursday afternoon, at least part of the drills will be devoted to the fundamentals of marching, Neumann said and added that "it's important that those who want to play in the band get to practice as soon as possible."

But, despite the losses by graduation and transfer, the outlook for the band is anything but dark; for 27 students already have been moved up from the Junior Band and are now being integrated with the Varsity Band.

Clift, who has directed the WHS Band for the last 15 years, resigned last spring to accept a similar position at Phillips Andover Academy at Andover, Mass. The Clift family plans to move to their new home later this week.

Funeral Service Held For Richard Dawson

Funeral services were held for Richard O. Dawson at 2 p. m. Monday in the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home here. The Rev. L. J. Poe, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, officiated. Prayer was offered, a short sermon was delivered and a personal tribute paid.

Pallbearers, all members of the 1956 graduating class of Washington C. H. High School, were Bud Carter, John Bryant, John McWilliam, Alvin Carroll, Ralph Medary, Gary Cockerill, Patrick O'Connor, Robert Rife, Gary Foster, Roger Sollars, David Pettit and Dean Morrow.

Burial services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at Washington C. H. Cemetery by the Rev. Mr. Poe.

Services were delayed a day, until a brother, Dale G. Dawson, a member of the U. S. Army stationed in Korea, arrived home Tuesday afternoon.

Mainly About People

John Baughn, of the Jamestown Road, was admitted to Memorial Hospital Monday, for medical treatment.

Nicola Sue Bloomer, Route 1, Bloomingburg, was released from Memorial Hospital, Monday. She had undergone surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Clickner returned late Monday from Polk, Pennsylvania, where they were called Sunday, to the home of Mrs. Clickner's son, Rev. Funeral Is Held For Mrs. Shirkey

Services for Mrs. Margaret Nancy Shirkey were held in the Parrett Funeral Home at 10 p. m. Monday.

Mrs. Shirkey, 88, was the widow of Sherman T. Shirkey.

The Rev. Herbert H. Ricketts, pastor of the Bloomingburg Methodist Church, read from the Book of John, chapter 14, offered prayer, gave a sermon and read the 23rd Psalm.

Pallbearers, who also cared for the floral tributes, were Gary Shirkey, Valorus Shirkey, Neil Shirkey, Norman Shirkey, Kenneth Shirkey and James Grim.

Burial was in Bloomingburg Cemetery.

to meet with the city board of education on Thursday evening, August 30, 1956, at 8 o'clock in the office of the city school superintendent to discuss the items mentioned above.

"The meeting shall be confined to members of the two boards of education, their executive heads and clerks, and newspaper and radio station representatives. Please notify W. A. Smith whether or not you and your board will be able to attend."

MEMBERS of the Miami Trace board are Groff, Gordon Cowdry, Robert L. Owens, Herbert Perrill and Richard Snyder. Copies of the letter also were to go to Supt. W. W. Boyer and Mrs. Senath Thompson, clerk of the board.

While the opening of the doors to a few students from the Miami Trace District took up most of the board's meeting time, it did name four more teachers to complete the teaching corps of the city schools.

NEW TEACHERS approved by the board were: Mrs. Sally Hagerty, dramatics, speech and English;

Mrs. Virginia Smith, high school English;

Mrs. Dorothy White, junior high school home economics;

Paul Messerall, vocal music, elementary schools.

Mrs. Robert Fries was approved by the substitute list and Miss Opal Davids for 59 days of teaching.

These appointments bring the teaching corps up to full strength of 82½ teachers, 40½ in the elementary schools and 42 in the junior and senior high schools. The half teacher is Mrs. Jerry Grundies who is to teach art in the elementary schools for only a half day.

THE BOARD also agreed to purchase from the Future Farmers of America Club at WHS a tractor for $550. It is to be used for cutting grass and snow removal.

Although the FFA has been disbanded at WHS, board members said they "presumed" the money from the sale of the tractor would be used to finance a trip for some of the members of the club before the vocational agriculture course was discontinued.

The board turned down a request of Calvary Baptist Church for the use of the Cherry Hill School for services five nights a week and on Sundays. Use of the school by the church would interfere with school activities, it was agreed.

The meeting was adjourned until 9 p. m. Thursday, the time set for the meeting with the Miami Trace board.

WASHINGTON — The Veterans Administration said today it expects more than 750,000 veterans to attend college and other training establishments this fall under the Korean GI bill.

Services Wednesday For Mrs. Hubbard

Services will be at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the Littleton Funeral Home, Sabina, for Mrs. Nancy E. Hubbard, 78, widow of Sanford Hubbard, who died at noon Monday in Fayette Memorial Hospital where she had been a patient 11 days.

Born near Portsmouth, Mrs. Hubbard had spent almost her entire life in the Sabina community. She had been in failing health for three years and seriously ill for eight months.

She was a member of Memphis Methodist Church.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Lorene Talmage, Wilmington, Mrs. Amy Thomas, Reesville, and Mrs. Mary Waldren, Sabina; a son, James Harold, Sabina; six grandchildren; eight great-grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. L. E. Davis, New Vienna. Her husband died in 1953.

The Rev. H. N. Tollefson, pastor of the Friends Church in Sabina, will conduct the services, and burial will be in Sabina Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home at any time.

Juveniles Held in Fake Shooting

AKRON — Six teen-agers who staged a fake shooting and threw a "body" off the North Main Street viaduct late Monday were rounded up by detectives and held in the juvenile detention home.

The boys were quoted as saying, "We didn't realize how serious it might have been" and "we just wanted to have some fun."

A motorist witnessed the incident, which involved the use of cap guns. Then a dummy, splashed with red paint and bound with a chain, was tossed over the viaduct railing, landing 160 feet below on the pavement.

Girl, 16, Hurt In Auto Crash

Driver Arrested In Another Mishap

Two traffic accidents occurred in the city and county Monday night, with one person hospitalized and one arrest made for reckless operation.

Hospitalized but not seriously injured was Katha Wright, 16, Washington C. H., who was bruised when a car in which she was riding with Eddie W. Jones, 17, of 553 Albin Ave., was wrecked on the Waterloo and Mt. Sterling Road a short distance north of Waterloo about 11:30 p. m.

Jones lost control of the car, according to report made to Sheriff Orland Hays, and the car plunged into a ditch and through a fence. The driver escaped with bruises and the car was damaged considerably.

IN AN ACCIDENT on N. North St. at Gibbs Ave., about 11:40 p. m. Monday, a car driven by David A. Brakefield, 75, 1131 Grace St., was struck by one driven by William E. Graves, 18, of 710 East Paint Street, badly damaging both cars.

A charge of reckless operation was filed against Graves.

Brakefield stated that he was headed west on Gibbs Ave. and stopped before entering North St. After looking both ways and seeing no car approaching, he reported, he started on and when he got onto North St. the Graves car crashed into him. The Graves car headed north on North St.

Rural Parents In New Try for School Survey

Plans for a new organization to promote an unbiased survey of Fayette County school needs and to work generally for better government were formulated Monday night at a meeting of the Rural Parents Assn.

The group would be formed from the membership of the RPA and from other citizens interested in a complete study of school problems.

The new organization, the RPA declared, should be a "nonpartisan body which could lead to better schools generally and the elimination of wasteful spending in the administration of school affairs." The RPA restated its belief that any survey should be made by "unbiased professionals in the field of education."

PLANS ALSO were announced for a RPA rally, fish fry and square dance to be held about Sept. 20. Exact time and place will be made known well in advance of the date of the rally which will be open to the public.

Members of the RPA's steering committee and plaintiffs in the school suit, brought by Sam Marting and others against the Fayette County Board of Education, attended the meeting and heard the plaintiff's attorneys explain the present status of the court action.

Held For Threat

DAYTON — Police today held for investigation a 21-year-old youth they said confessed trying to extort $2,000 from the manager of a Dayton supermarket.

Det. Sgt. A. J. Zennia said Francis Eugene Stunich, who formerly worked for the supermarket, admitted calling the manager and demanding the money under threat of harming his two children.

Mrs. Hiestand Dies After Short Illness

Mrs. Priscilla Hiestand, 93, died at the Chaney Rest Home in Hillsboro at 7 p. m. Monday following a relatively short illness.

She was the grandmother of Miss Marjorie Evans, a member of the Washington C. H. High School faculty. Miss Evans was in Hillsboro Tuesday; she also had made many and frequent visits to see her through the years.

Mrs. Hiestand was a native and lifelong resident of Highland County. Her home was on a farm on the Marshall Pike about 4 miles from Hillsboro near Rocky Fork Lake.

Her husband, John Hiestand, died about 15 years ago, but she is survived by a son, Clarence Hiestand of the Marshall Pike and a sister, Mrs. Thomas Fulton of Dayton. She also leaves nine grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services are to be held at 2 p. m. Thursday at the Evans Funeral Home in Hillsboro and interment is to be in the Hillsboro Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after noon Wednesday.

The famous Austrian composer, Franz Schubert, died of typhoid fever at the age of 31.

The Case of

THE AMPUTATED TELEPHONE

You'd fight if somebody attacked your house with an axe, wouldn't you?

What about the vital lifeline between your home and your doctor . . . between your home and police protection . . . between your home and your far away loved ones . . . your telephone?

Recently, in your town, or in towns near you—this vital link has been attacked. Telephone service has been interrupted, interfered with, or entirely cut off!

Where? In Cadiz, in Portsmouth, New Boston, Circleville, Cambridge, St. Marys . . . Since July 15, when the strike against Ohio

Consolidated began, more than 50 cables have been cut, slashed, burned, hacked in half—interfering with the phone service of more than SIX THOUSAND homes and businesses!

Supervisors manning local and long distance telephone boards—trying desperately to keep the lines open to you—have been harassed, threatened, intimidated, even shot at!

More than ten offices have had to be closed down for short or long periods—due to vandalism or because police protection was not adequate to handle the danger to operators and equipment!

Our Pledge

We pledge that we will do our utmost to see that your telephone service is NOT interrupted. We are constantly running service level checks to find out what kind of service you are receiving. Supervisors are working long overtime hours manning the boards, repairing the damaged equipment—far beyond the call of duty. They will go on fighting—for YOU.

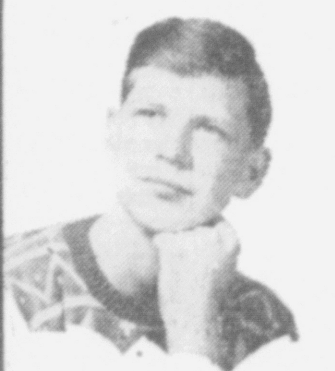

We pledge, furthermore, that we will not ask you to pay for service you have not received. We will adjust your bills, and charge you only the amount which we can fairly ask.

We pledge these things—as part of the public trust we serve—and we will do them.

But one thing we cannot do—we cannot guarantee that you will have phone service when you need it most. Someone with an axe may chop into your line—or terrify a girl into leaving her telephone board. We will do our best to give you service again—as fast as we can. But who will stop the man who cut you off?

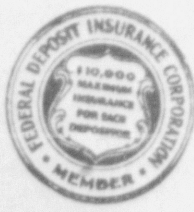

He's thinking of a successful future

And we, his friends at the bank, are thinking of more ways to help him achieve it!

We are constantly striving to improve our present services, and to provide new ones as needed—so we may continue to meet all the financial needs of all our farm neighbors, young and old alike.

WE INVITE EVERY MEMBER OF YOUR FAMILY TO MAKE OUR BANK "FINANCIAL HEADQUARTERS."

Mrs. Shirkey, 88, was the widow of Sherman T. Shirkey.

The Rev. Herbert H. Ricketts, pastor of the Bloomingburg Methodist Church, read from the Book of John, chapter 14, offered prayer, gave a sermon and read the 23rd Psalm.

Pallbearers, who also cared for the floral tributes, were Gary Shirkey, Valorus Shirkey, Neil Shirkey, Norman Shirkey, Kenneth Shirkey and James Grim.

Burial was in Bloomingburg Cemetery.

to meet with the city board of education on Thursday evening, August 30, 1956, at 8 o'clock in the office of the city school superintendent to discuss the items mentioned above.

"The meeting shall be confined to members of the two boards of education, their executive heads and clerks, and newspaper and radio station representatives. Please notify W. A. Smith whether or not you and your board will be able to attend."

MEMBERS of the Miami Trace board are Groff, Gordon Cowdery, Robert L. Owens, Herbert Perrill and Richard Snyder. Copies of the letter also were to go to Supt. W. W. Boyer and Mrs. Senath Thompson, clerk of the board.

While the opening of the doors to a few students from the Miami Trace District took up most of the board's meeting time, it did name four more teachers to complete the teaching corps of the city schools.

NEW TEACHERS approved by the board were:

Mrs. Sally Hagerty, dramatics, speech and English;

Mrs. Virginia Smith, high school English;

Mrs. Dorothy White, junior high school home economics;

Paul Messerall, vocal music, elementary schools.

Mrs. Robert Fries was approved by the substitute list and Miss Opal Davids for 59 days of teaching.

These appointments bring the teaching corps up to full strength of 82½ teachers, 40½ in the elementary schools and 42 in the junior and senior high schools. The half teacher is Mrs. Jerry Grundies who is to teach art in the elementary schools for only a half day.

THE BOARD also agreed to purchase from the Future Farmers of America Club at WHS a tractor for $550. It is to be used for cutting grass and snow removal.

Although the FFA has been disbanded at WHS, board members said they "presumed" the money from the sale of the tractor would be used to finance a trip for some of the members of the club before the vocational agriculture course was discontinued.

The board turned down a request of Calvary Baptist Church for the use of the Cherry Hill School for services five nights a week and on Sundays. Use of the school by the church would interfere with school activities, it was agreed.

The meeting was adjourned until 9 p. m. Thursday, the time set for the meeting with the Miami Trace board.

WASHINGTON — The Veterans Administration said today it expects more than 750,000 veterans to attend college and other training establishments this fall under the Korean GI bill.

Services Wednesday For Mrs. Hubbard

Services will be at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the Littleton Funeral Home, Sabina, for Mrs. Nancy E. Hubbard, 78, widow of Sanford Hubbard, who died at noon Monday in Fayette Memorial Hospital where she had been a patient 11 days.

Born near Portsmouth, Mrs. Hubbard had spent almost her entire life in the Sabina community. She had been in failing health for three years and seriously ill for eight months.

She was a member of Memphis Methodist Church.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Lorene Talmage, Wilmington, Mrs. Amy Thomas, Reesville, and Mrs. Mary Waldren, Sabina; a son, James Harold, Sabina; six grandchildren; eight great-grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. L. E. Davis, New Vienna. Her husband died in 1953.

The Rev. H. N. Tollefson, pastor of the Friends Church in Sabina, will conduct the services, and burial will be in Sabina Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home at any time.

Juveniles Held in Fake Shooting

AKRON — Six teen-agers who staged a fake shooting and threw a "body" off the North Main Street viaduct late Monday were rounded up by detectives and held in the juvenile detention home.

The boys were quoted as saying, "We didn't realize how serious it might have been" and "we just wanted to have some fun."

A motorist witnessed the incident, which involved the use of cap guns. Then a dummy, splashed with red paint and bound with a chain, was tossed over the viaduct railing, landing 160 feet below on the pavement.

Girl, 16, Hurt In Auto Crash

Driver Arrested In Another Mishap

Two traffic accidents occurred in the city and county Monday night, with one person hospitalized and one arrest made for reckless operation.

Hospitalized but not seriously injured was Katha Wright, 16, Washington C. H., who was bruised when a car in which she was riding with Eddie W. Jones, 17, of 553 Albin Ave., was wrecked on the Waterloo and Mt. Sterling Road a short distance north of Waterloo about 11:30 p. m.

Jones lost control of the car, according to report made to Sheriff Orland Hays, and the car plunged into a ditch and through a fence. The driver escaped with bruises and the car was damaged considerably.

IN AN ACCIDENT on N. North St., at Gibbs Ave., about 11:40 p. m. Monday, a car driven by David A. Brakefield, 75, 1131 Grace St., was struck by one driven by William E. Graves, 16, of 710 East Paint Street, badly damaging both cars.

A charge of reckless operation was filed against Graves.

Brakefield stated that he was headed west on Gibbs Ave. and stopped before entering North St. After looking both ways and seeing no car approaching, he reported, he started on and when he got onto North St. the Graves car crashed into him. The Graves auto headed north on North St.

HILLSBORO — Ten thousand gallons of asphalt went down a drain along the N & W Railroad when a tank load of the hot mixture was opened on N. West St.

Rural Parents In New Try for School Survey

Plans for a new organization to promote an unbiased survey of Fayette County school needs and to work generally for better government were formulated Monday night at a meeting of the Rural Parents Assn.

The group would be formed from the membership of the RPA and from other citizens interested in a complete study of school problems.

The new organization, the RPA declared, should be a "nonpartisan body which could lead to better schools, generally and the elimination of wasteful spending in the administration of school affairs". The RPA restated its belief that any survey should be made by "unbiased professionals in the field of education."

PLANS ALSO were announced for a RPA rally, fish fry and square dance to be held about Sept. 20. Exact time and place will be made known well in advance of the date of the rally which will be open to the public.

Members of the RPA's steering committee and plaintiffs in the school suit, brought by Sam Marting and others against the Fayette County Board of Education, attended the meeting and heard the plaintiff's attorneys explain the present status of the court action.

Held For Threat

DAYTON — Police today held for investigation a 21-year-old youth they said confessed trying to extort $2,000 from the manager of a Dayton supermarket.

Det. Sgt. A. J. Zennia said Francis Eugene Stunich, who formerly worked for the supermarket, admitted calling the manager and demanding the money under threat of harming his two children.

Mrs. Hiestand Dies After Short Illness

Mrs. Priscilla Hiestand, 93, died at the Chaney Rest Home in Hillsboro at 7 p. m. Monday following a relatively short illness.

She was the grandmother of Miss Marjorie Evans, a member of the Washington C. H. High School faculty. Miss Evans was in Hillsboro Tuesday; she also had made many and frequent visits to see her through the years.

Mrs. Hiestand was a native and lifelong resident of Highland County. Her home was on a farm on the Marshall Pike about 4 miles from Hillsboro near Rocky Fork Lake.

Her husband, John Hiestand, died about 15 years ago, but she is survived by a son, Clarence Hiestand of the Marshall Pike and a sister, Mrs. Thomas Fulton of Dayton. She also leaves nine grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services are to be held at 2 p. m. Thursday at the Evans Funeral Home in Hillsboro and interment is to be in the Hillsboro Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after noon Wednesday.

The famous Austrian composer, Franz Schubert, died of typhoid fever at the age of 31.

The Case of

THE AMPUTATED TELEPHONE

You'd fight if somebody attacked your house with an axe, wouldn't you?

What about the vital lifeline between your home and your doctor . . . between your home and police protection . . . between your home and your far away loved ones . . . your telephone?

Recently, in your town, or in towns near you—this vital link has been attacked. Telephone service has been interrupted, interfered with, or entirely cut off!

Where? In Cadiz, in Portsmouth, New Boston, Circleville, Cambridge, St. Marys . . .

Since July 15, when the strike against Ohio

Consolidated began, more than 50 cables have been cut, slashed, burned, hacked in half—interfering with the phone service of more than SIX THOUSAND homes and businesses!

Supervisors manning local and long distance telephone boards—trying desperately to keep the lines open to you—have been harassed, threatened, intimidated, even shot at!

More than ten offices have had to be closed down for short or long periods—due to vandalism or because police protection was not adequate to handle the danger to operators and equipment!

Our Pledge

We pledge that we will do our utmost to see that your telephone service is NOT interrupted. We are constantly running service level checks to find out what kind of service you are receiving. Supervisors are working long overtime hours manning the boards, repairing the damaged equipment—far beyond the call of duty. They will go on fighting—for YOU.

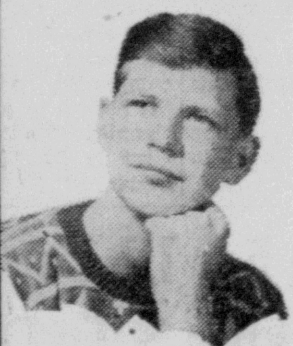

We pledge, furthermore, that we will not ask you to pay for service you have not received. We will adjust your bills, and charge you only the amount which we can fairly ask.

We pledge these things—as part of the public trust we serve—and we will do them.

But one thing we cannot do—we cannot guarantee that you will have phone service when you need it most. Someone with an axe may chop into your line—or terrify a girl into leaving her telephone board. We will do our best to give you service again—as fast as we can. But who will stop the man who cut you off?

He's thinking of a successful future

And we, his friends at the bank, are thinking of more ways to help him achieve it!

We are constantly striving to improve our present services, and to provide new ones as needed—so we may continue to meet all the financial needs of all our farm neighbors, young and old alike.

WE INVITE EVERY MEMBER OF YOUR FAMILY TO MAKE OUR BANK "FINANCIAL HEADQUARTERS."

Sen. Smathers Not Bothered By Lausche Talk

But Some Leaders In Both Parties Indicate Irritation

By JAMES B. SIBBISON
WASHINGTON (AP)—GOP party professionals just can't conceal their irritation at the "political independence" of Ohio Gov. Frank J. Lausche. Some Democrats get riled at it, too.

"Political chameleon" and "part-time Democrat" are just two of the things Lausche's rival in the fall campaign, Sen. George H. Bender, calls him.

And Democratic Chairman Paul M. Butler has severely criticized Lausche for not being what he considers a real Democrat.

This sort of talk doesn't impress George Smathers at all. A Democratic senator from Florida, Smathers says he earnestly hopes Lausche will join him and his fellow senators next year. Moreover, he thinks he will.

Now it's Smathers' job, as chairman of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, to help senatorial candidates of his party get elected this fall.

This assistance, he says, certainly will go to Lausche, if he wants it, in spite of the governor's assertion that he is in doubt whether he would go with the GOP or the Democrats in organizing the Senate.

"So far as I'm concerned," said the tall, handsome Smathers, "I don't have any worry about how he'll vote."

"He's an independent Democrat, but a Democrat, nonetheless. I believe when he gets here he'll vote Democratic."

As for Butler's criticism of Lausche, Smathers says he isn't swayed at all by that.

"Butler is a splendid man," said Smathers, "and a fine national chairman. But he doesn't know the problems of having to appeal to a lot of different people in a campaign. For my own part, I'm not going to pass judgement on Lausche."

It's Smathers' belief—like that of a lot of southerners in congress—that a senator has the right to disagree frequently with the party leadership.

"Otherwise," he says, "the national chairman might as well get together on legislation and decide issues like a poker game, with each one showing so many votes."

Smathers also has a personal reason for favoring Lausche. As he recalls it, Lausche's wife, Jane, sat on the platform at Del Ray Beach in Florida in 1950 when Smathers was campaigning in Lausches vacation at Del Ray.

"I saw him twice on social occasions at the Democratic convention, too," said Smathers.

"I asked him if he needed any help. But he said he didn't. He said he believes things are coming along very satisfactorily."

Lausche, it would appear, still is taking the "independent" approach.

BURDENS AND LOVE

We all f u have burdens— and Some of one kind and some of another;

How we bear them is what counts; Some are heavy, some just a bother;

Two Vice President Nominees Present Varied Appearances

By BELMAN MORIN
AP STAFF WRITER

If Vice President Nixon and his Democratic opponent, Sen. Estes Kefauver, were to meet in a public debate, you would see two apparently very different men.

Nixon is dark, carefully dressed, carefully groomed, an effortless speaker, obviously intelligent.

Kefauver is big, sandy-haired, often ruffled, slow of speech, with the expression of an absent-minded owl.

On a campaign, Nixon's essential qualities are alertness, fierce concentration, a driving determination to convince.

By contrast, Kefauver seems perpetually relaxed, easy-moving, a man taking little more than a neighborly interest in the proceedings.

"Very different types," you would say. "Looks like the country boy versus the city smoothie."

But looks are deceiving. Actually the rival vice-presidential candidates have a good many things in common.

They are both ambitious, aggressive men who plan carefully and work hard at the intricate business of getting elected.

Kefauver has a political background. His father, Robert Cooke Kefauver, 86, was four times mayor of Madisonville, Tenn., the senator's birthplace.

Nixon's father was a streetcar conductor and citrus grower in Yorba Linda, Calif., but the vice president, while he was studying law at Duke University, already was interested in a political career and getting advice about it.

To a considerable degree, each is a one-man operator, making his own decisions without a brain trust or intimate advisors.

Each has an attractive wife and family — Kefauver has three daughters, Nixon two.

"In her way," said a man who knows the Nixons well, "Pat Nixon is as smart as her husband."

Pretty, Scottish-born Nancy Kefauver speaks fluent French and used it effectively when her husband was campaigning in the New England mill towns.

They both keep posted on the smallest details of local politics. Chances are if either man came to your city tonight he could tell you who is what in local politics and why.

Each has the priceless ability to "think on his feet," that is, to turn the unexpected to his advantage.

Kefauver, 53, is 10 years older than Nixon. He came to Congress in 1939. Nixon was elected in 1946. Both soon went after seats in the Senate and won.

Kefauver has a dry, natural humor. Nixon's little sallies, when he tries them, are planned.

But perhaps the greatest difference between the two men is this: Nixon is shrewd, smooth, bold and effective, and he shows it.

Kefauver is, too — but he doesn't show it.

Urges Raises for Federal Employees

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Democrat of Government Employees today, ic senator sought a new pay raise for federal employees today even as the administration moved to trim the number of workers on its rolls.

Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) chairman of a Senate committee which handles such legislation, predicted the next Congress will vote the pay increase. His address, made public Monday night, was prepared for a convention session of the American Federation of Government Employees today. Its release coincided with a directive from Budget Director Percival F. Brundage, designed to cut government costs by reducing the number of workers. He urged agency heads to check carefully the need of replacing employees who retire, and to let the jobs go unfilled if possible.

Oil Supply Big Factor In Suez Controversy

The threat of possible world warfare is now a dominant portion of the thinking of people everywhere, including our own United States.

That is the reason our own country is taking such an active part in the negotiations seeking a peaceful solution of the Suez Canal controversy.

In recent weeks we have heard more talk of war danger on this subject among Fayette County families than on any other international subject, perhaps even more than concerning the recent national political conventions of Republicans and Democrats.

This comes, not only from families with sons already in service, but also from those where sons may soon be called for military service.

Negotiations may be long and filled with contentions but the hope of the world is that they will not fail or lead to a shooting war.

It is being pointed out that the real concern of England and France is not so much who controls the Suez Canal as an artery of commerce, but Europe's oil supply for the future is more in the thinking of nations including West Germany.

If Egypt, through Nasser, her political-minded Premier, is successful in this canal grab act and also succeeds in his ambition to form a closely-knit Arab Federation, world leaders see a grave danger that nationalization of pipelines and oil fields would be the next move. This would be a grave danger to the entire West European industrial capacity.

The United States, of course, could provide part of Europe's needs but at much greater expense and in insufficient quantities. If Nasser should cut off this market for oil, the economies of all Arab states would suffer. They would be forced to become more and more dependent upon Russia.

Thus far the Egyptians have refused to listen to reason. They are backed by the Russians. Even though Nasser's tone at times seems more conciliatory, there are still no signs of definite agreement. The anxiety over these vast amounts of oil—billions of barrels of oil—is greater than that over the Canal itself.

The question probably will be solved without a major conflict. Negotiations will be long and painful. Nasser and the Russians apparently hold the trump cards. Even should the Egyptian dictator be forced to temporary agreement by economic pressures, there can be no assurances that he will not precipitate other and greater crises in the future.

Western policy in the Middle East has been uncertain. There are yet few signs of improvement.

Four Fists Now Needed

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—A new figure of heroic stature looms on the American political horizon—the two-fisted vice president.

In the past it hasn't made much difference whether the President's harness mate had two, four or ten thumbs, as he didn't count much anyway. His main problem was to make the appropriate noises while presiding over the U. S. Senate.

Only one man in history has made a really memorable utterance while serving as stall mouse for the occupant of the White House. He was Thomas Riley Marshall, vice president under Woodrow Wilson. Marshall all escaped oblivion as the result of his daring remark, "What this country needs is a good five-cent cigar."

But the situation has now changed. The voters seem sold on the idea that what this country needs is not a vice president who merely yawns for a good five-cent cigar, but one who will get in there with bare knuckles and fight for it.

Perhaps the biggest result of the 1956 national political conventions is that both Republicans and Democrats now agree on this—running the executive branch of the federal government has become a four-fisted job.

The President's two fists are no longer enough. His veep must have fists, too.

Considering the proven political pugnacity of the two present rival candidates for vice president—Estes Kefauver and Dick Nixon—the nation may even wind up with a veep who gives the appearance of having triple fists.

Commenting on the new trend, a television pundit pontificated: "There will be no throttle bottoms." He was referring to Alexander Throttlebottom, the amiable, bumbling, vice presidential nonentity in the Broadway Musical, "Of Thee I Sing."

But what about the mother of a little boy who doesn't want to get in there and slug? Can she no longer hope her son will grow up and become a vice president?

Perhaps not in national politics. But the little lad still has a future in industry.

There must be several hundred thousand vice presidents in the business world. Many are harmless souls who dwell in upholstered swivel chairs and spend the day scribbling memos to their private secretary to be sure that no one without proper authorization uses the office pencil sharpener.

Yet they fill a need, and pure chaos would follow if they all were infected at once with the theory they should become two-fisted veeps.

Aggressive heads of business organizations sometimes like to surround themselves with these Throttlebottoms on the reasonable assumption, "With guys like that around I have to look good—if only by contrast."

The President of the United States doesn't have to worry about having his job taken away from him by a two-fisted vice president. The constitution protects his powers, and custom guarantees his prestige. He is safe from inside assault.

But the president of a business firm has no such guarantee. If all the Throttlebottoms in industry suddenly start flexing their muscles and doubling up their fists, no business president or board chairman in the land will sleep easily. Each will be afraid to turn his back in his own office. None will feel secure in his job.

Do tycoons want a situation like that? Not if we know tycoons.

The moral is, if you want to be a Throttlebottom in life, get out of politics. Go into industry. The business world depends on its Throttlebottoms, almost as much as it does on paper clips, to keep things together.

God Bless Joe Smith

By George Sokolsky

Is there a Joe Smith?

Of course, in every town and village in the United States, there is a Joe Smith of some kind, a fellow who went to school, maybe to high school, maybe even to some kind of college; who fought in World War II or maybe even in the Korean War; who runs a store or an insurance office, or is a realtor or mortician; who belongs to Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions or something; who belongs to the American Legion or the Veterans of Foreign Wars; who usually voted Republican but sometimes Democratic or for nobody.

Joe Smith goes to church most Sundays and also to the men's club of his church on Wednesday nights. He thinks that his minister is a learned man and is a good guy. Joe is married, has a couple of kids and owns two cars, thus fulfilling the Republican hope for two cars in every garage, or was it two chickens in every pot? Joe is neither a common man nor an average man. He is just Joe Smith, citizen.

So Joe Smith's name was mentioned at the Republican convention at San Francisco for vice president. Why not? Is there any harm in mentioning a name? It got a laugh. Everybody had decided unanimously to nominate Richard Nixon for vice president. Harold Stassen had capitulated after three weeks of playing at independence.

But out of Nebraska came a voice of non-conformity—one out of more than 1,300. That is strong, powerful, unmistakable non-conformity. It is of the stuff that made Emerson and Thoreau. It is really of the stuff that made America.

They all laughed. No, not all. Some were angry when Mr. Carpenter of Nebraska said that he wanted to nominate Joe Smith. And he wanted to nominate Joe Smith because the convention was dull and dry-as-dust and it had been arranged for television and the delegates were really behaving too well and who wants to be regimented like a bunch of dancers all raising their arms and legs to the same beat and nobody stepping out of line.

True, Carpenter probably got the devil from his wife when he got back home, but the boys will slap him on the back for stopping the show over in the Cow Palace in San Francisco where everybody did everything unanimously and nobody even said boo to a goose. Yes, the boys will slap him on the back and maybe they will even buy him a cigar, because old Carpenter, he stopped the unanimous show and he gave the reporters and television boys, the wrong number, his own telephone number in his little town—do I need to remember the name—out there in Nebraska.

Sure, they all telephone at once and all they got was a busy signal, until someone reached the missus who said there ain't no Joe Smith at that place. The missus knew what she was talking about because she saw it all on television along with the ads of razors and automobiles and dish-washing machines and the female announcers competing with the orators for time and attention.

The missus had seen it all and she was kind of sneaking proud of her boy that he stood out in the Republican convention like a sore thumb. Why not? If Harry Truman could do it at Chicago, why couldn't her man do it at San Francisco? But did you see Bess' face? Yes, the women-folks, they have to keep things right by giving the menfolks hell. Yes, she would give Carpenter hell when he got back from the convention; she would say he was celebrating, which he shouldn't have been, but she would bake a cake and cook him some pancakes oozing with butter and syrup and covered with good country sausage. That's what she'd do to show him that she was giving him hell, because that what Bess gave Harry, but there is no hard feeling about it. No, sir!

And so, here's to Joe Smith, mentioned for vice president once, on the memorable Aug. 22, 1956, and forgotten immediately after. He is the symbol of liberty to think, to speak, to be wise or stupid, to laugh or cry, to be in order or out of order, to defy authority and tradition and the commands of the great.

God bless Joe Smith.

Baking Powder Bane To Prickly Heat

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Prickly heat is a summer-time menace for both adults and children. But babies seem especially susceptible.

If your baby has a really bad case of prickly heat, try bathing him several times a day with a specially prepared sponge bath. Sponge his whole body with a mixture of one quart of cool water and four teaspoonsful of baking soda.

Don't Use Soap

As long as the rash of small raised spots exists, don't use any soap on that particular portion of his skin.

Calamine lotion or another mild lotion might prove beneficial. Baking soda, cornstarch or baby powder probably will help ease the itching. Be careful that the powder doesn't become caked in the creases of your tot's arms, legs and neck.

Dressing a baby properly in warm weather will help prevent the rash from developing in the first place. Perspiration, you see, is what causes prickly heat.

During extremely hot weather, your youngster should wear as little clothing as possible. Make sure that the clothes next to his skin are soft, lightweight linen or cotton.

Don't clamp a tight-fitting bonnet on a baby's head. This will only make him sweat. Before you know it, he'll have a bad case of prickly heat on his forehead.

Susceptible Areas

Some areas where the rash is likely to break out are a baby's face, chest, neck and shoulders. The bends of his elbows and his

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—An era ended and another began in 1932. Now, 24 years later, the two presidential candidates of 1956, President Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson, see a brand new era ahead.

But there is a difference between the way the Democrats and Republicans approached the new era in 1932 and the way Eisenhower and Stevenson look forward to the years immediately ahead.

In 1932 the Republicans drowning in the great depression, lacked fresh ideas. That same year the Democratic platform was short and direct. It promised action of a new kind on many fronts.

The Democrats won. They changed the course of American life and established definitely the principle of government responsibility for the general welfare.

President Herbert Hoover, running for re-election against Franklin D. Roosevelt, said: "This campaign is more than a contest between two men. It is more than a contest between parties. It is a contest between two philosophies of government."

"Our opponents . . . are proposing changes and so-called new deals which would destroy the very foundations of our American system . . ."

Roosevelt saw it otherwise. Accepting the Democratic nomination, he said: "I pledge you, I pledge myself to a new deal for the American people." And later: "The country needs, and unless I mistake its temper, the country demands, bold, persistent experimentation."

There followed under Roosevelt the long list of New Deal programs and adjustments in American living: Social Security, the Wagner Act, the 40-hour week, controls over business, the reciprocal trade law.

Much that seemed radical in these programs at the time—or was called radical—actually had roots in federal or state programs enacted into law in related fields years before. And the New Deal social programs, instead of being new, were only bringing the United States abreast of the advanced European countries.

For years afterward Republicans fought, in whole or piecemeal, the New Deal and later the "Fair Deal" which was an extension of it. In time they recognized—but not too clearly until Eisenhower became president—that the New and Fair Deals were simply bringing the United States up to date and laying the basic foundations for the future.

Under Eisenhower the Republicans adopted basic programs of both the New and Fair Deals and even extended them.

Thus both parties are abreast of each other and in that sense an era has ended, for the New Deal and Fair Deal programs have become a broad foundation for the future.

Neither party is offering now—as Roosevelt did in 1932—broad new fields of experimentation. They are accepting what has been done in the past and proposing to extend it. Neither party's program this year offers anything which essentially is different from the other's.

So at midcentury both parties, standing on the broad base already laid, are pulling in the same direction.

State Fair in Its Fifth Day; Attendance Marks Still Fall

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Attendance at the 1956 Ohio State Fair continued to smash records as the big show went into its fifth day today dedicated to farm organization.

Principal activities were to be at the Youth Center where Camp Fire Girl demonstrations, a 4-H style revue and FFA demonstrations were scheduled.

An estimated 60,000 visitors Monday kept the fair ahead of last year's record 44,000 for the corresponding day. Thus far, fair attendance has eclipsed previous record totals for each day. Official attendance for the first three days was 359,194, or 129,000 more than the attendance for the corresponding period in 1955.

In livestock judging, grand champions were picked in two swine breeds, Tamworth and Berkshire. Top Tamworth boar was shown by Chester Wiley of Columbiana City, Ind. Wiley also showed the grand champion Tamworth sow.

A Berkshire boar owned by Everson Bros. of Wellington won the grand championship for his breed. Grand champion Berkshire sow was that of Carl Dawson of Litchfield, Mich.

Lee's Hill Farms of New Vernon, N. J., won the fourth annual Brown Swiss futurity grand championship with a two-year-old cow, Lee's Hill Memoir A.

Meanwhile, cattle entered by Pennsylvania State University swept the open beef show, winning all breed and show championships.

and championship animal was a Blocky Angus, P. S. Eileenmere, which also took top honors for his breed. A Penn State Shorthorn took reserve honors after topping his breed class, while a summer yearling Hereford from the same exhibit won his breed trophy.

In the sheep and wool show, grand champion Columbia ram was Rockets Bomber, shown by Eugene P. Laite & Sons of Rt. 2, Lima. Breed grand championship for females also went to Laite for a yearling ewe.

An aged ram shown by Betty Hays, El Paso, Ill., took the Suffolk ram grand championship. Hays also took the Suffolk grand championship for ewes with an entry in that aged class.

In 4-H and Future Farmers of America competition, two brothers from Mt. Gilead took top honors. David Jordan, 16, and his brother, Paul, 12, each entered grand champion Guernseys.

Joe Caldwell, 17, of Rt. 2, Ashville, won a grand championship with his Angus beef-breeding female in 4-H competition. Bernard Burns, 16, of Milford Center, won the top showman award.

Robert Core, 15, of Rt. 1, Rushsylvania, won the beef-breeding FFA Hereford championship.

Winner of the FFA safe driving contest was Howard Stivers, 17, of Mowrystown.

A farm fan built to draw dust from an oats bin won Fred Bischoff, 18, of Plain City, first place in the state 4-H electrical program.

Gary Crofut, of Huntsville, exhibited the champion pen of fryers and roasters. They were White Nix cross-bred chicks.

Jackie Lee Hoppes, 17, of Good Hope won the 4-H Shorthorn grand championship with her entry.

Richard Thompson, 14, Rt. 3, Wilmington, took the grand championship in the 4-H Hereford show with a senior yearling heifer.

Reporter Should Have Waited Before Visiting Kim Novak

By JAMES BACON
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Kim Novak, a bona fide movie star now, has taken her first apartment since coming to Hollywood — and I, for one, wished she still lived at the Y. W. C. A.

As every dyed-in-the-wool fan knows, Kim is a famous alumna of the Studio Club. That's an inexpensive home-away-from-home for pretty young girls who want to make a name for themselves in Hollywood. It's also, as a department of the Y. W. C. A., a no-nonsense land.

But her studio apparently figured it too unglamorous an address for the Chicago blonde, fresh from successes in "Picnic" and "The Eddy Duchin Story" and soon to star in "The Jeanne Eagles Story" and "Pal Joey."

So when she returned from her triumphant tour of Europe, she leased a fancy Beverly Hills apartment.

As a discoverer of Kim, I was given the honor of being the first male reporter to see the new apartment. I wish I had been second.

The night before she had given a housewarming dinner. Judging from the number of dishes used, it looked like something out of Perle Mesta.

The dishes were all piled in the sink or stacked on the kitchen floor. All dirty, of course.

"Wouldn't you know?" she moaned. "My first party and the maid turns up sick."

It was a sight to make any self-respecting maid sick.

"You know I'm Bohemian, we'll clean up these dishes quick," she added, whipping out two aprons. By the time she had tied the last bow on my apron, I got the whole horrible impact of her use of the pronoun "we."

Three hours and a hundred or more dishes later, she beamed: "I'm going to tell your wife what a good disher wiper you are."

I got news for Kim Novak. She's never going to see my wife again if I can help it.

Victim Reports on 'Hepcat Bandits'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two hep cat bandits held up Richard E. Engler, 30-year-old postal clerk, but he assured police the only things "real gone" were his 10 bucks and $60 wristwatch.

Engler said Monday the "cool" conversation went like this: "Daddy, you've had it, man. Give us your bread, then you're as free as a bird."

"This wasn't much of a score, man," said the other robber, looking at the money and watch. "We didn't know you were from Brokeville."

"IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD."

BOOKED AT FAYETTE THEATER Jeff Chandler, Tim Hovey and Lorraine Day are the stars of a new screen comedy, "Toy Tiger," to be shown at the Fayette Theater Wednesday and Thursday. "Toy Tiger" is accompanied by "Murder on Approval," a mystery film starring Tom Conway and Delphi Lawrence.

Highway Rerouting To Be Discussed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state highway department reported today that highway rerouting in a three-county northwestern Ohio 51 area will be discussed Wednesday in the Lucas County Courthouse in Toledo.

The department said five highways in Lucas, Wood and Hancock counties will be affected by changes designed to simplify highway numbering and relieve unnecessary sign maintenance expenses.

The highways are U.S. 24A, U.S. 68, Ohio 120, Ohio 51 and Ohio 199. Segments of all but Ohio 51 would be abandoned on roads which carry more than one route designation. Portions would be left to county and city roads systems.

Ohio 51 would be extended from its intersection with Ohio 199 to a junction with Ohio 120.

Latin Americans Getting Much Money in U. S.

Businessmen Look Southward as Pace in Europe Slows

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Trade and investment money are flowing faster today along a two way street between the United States and Latin America.

Many American businessmen look southward where the rate of industrial growth is on the upbeat while the pace in Western Europe slackens a bit.

Trade between this nation and those to the south is running at seven billions dollars a year, a Pan American-Grace Airways official says. He predicts that will double in 20 years.

The U.S. Department of Commerce reports Americans are investing 300 million dollars a year in Latin America — almost half of it in new manufacturing plants. One big reason: returns often are twice or more what they are here.

Now Many Wear FALSE TEETH With Little Worry

Eat, talk, laugh or sneeze without fear of insecure false teeth dropping, slipping or wobbling. FASTEETH holds plates firmer and more comfortably. This pleasant powder has no gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. Doesn't cause nausea. It's alkaline (non-acid). Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Another: most Latin-American countries permit free ownership of foreign securities and free export of their national currency, while in many other places Americans must wait to get their earnings out in any form.

Much American investment has been in developing oil and mineral resources and the returns have been juicy. But there's been a postwar trend toward setting up subsidiaries of U.S. manufacturing companies, to get around any restrictions on dollar spending and to bring production close to expanding markets.

And retail trade with a Yankee flavor is increasing. Example: Sears Roebuck has put 33 million dollars in new stores throughout Latin America and is teaching the people to make some of the goods carried. Celanese, which has five plants in Mexico, uses local raw materials to win popularity.

This isn't all one way. The U.S. Commerce Department reports that Latin investments in this country, both private and governmental, now top three billion dollars. Last year Latin Americans bought 17 million dollars worth of U.S. corporate stocks to bring their holdings to 484 million.

Boy's Jewel Gift Brings Trouble

LYNNFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Steve Grady gave his girl some jewelry — and that's where trouble began. Steve Grady is only 6 years old. His girl friend, identified only as Mary, is 4.

Steve's brother, Paul, 5, informed his mother Monday "Stevie gave Mary a lot of jewelry."

The mother checked her jewel box and found two rings, two bracelets and a necklace, which she valued at $75, were missing.

She told her husband, Police Sgt. Norman Grady, and he initiated a search.

Steve admitted he gave his girl friend the jewelry. Mary said she buried most of it, but can't remember where.

Couple Repeats Marriage Vows On Sunday

The Midway Presbyterian Church at Sedalia was the setting on Sunday, August 26, for the wedding of Miss Anna Grace Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Miller of Bloomingburg, and Mr. Archie Dale Fruth, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Dale Fruth of Fostoria.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert L. Waller, as the hands of the clock approached three in the afternoon and was preceded by a half hour of nuptial music presented by Mrs. Reynold Slaughter, Jr., soloist and Mrs. Kenneth Dorn, organist.

The vows were spoken before an all white altar banked with summer flowers flanked with palms.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown fashioned of lace and tulle. The basque bodice of imported lace, had a Queen Anne collar, long pointed sleeves and the full skirt was layers of tulle with lace applique worn over an old fashioned hoop. Her fingertip veil of French illusion was held in place by a half hat of lace and tulle, with iridescent trim and she carried a cascade bouquet of shattered carnations and daisies centered with a white orchid.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. Emil L. Parker of Port Clinton. Miss Audrey Trimble of Bellefontaine and Miss Betty Shaw of Westerville, as bridesmaids.

Mr. Duane Fruth, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man and ushers were Mr. Kenneth Miller, brother of the bride and Mr. Edwin Dootz of Toledo, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

The honor attendant wore a street length dress of blue embroidered nylon and carried a fan shaped bouquet of three shades of Marguerite daisies, while the other attendants were in identical dresses of pink embroidered nylon and also carried fan shaped bouquets.

Kelly-Stewart Wedding Vows Read Sept. 25

Washington Court House and Columbus friends are learning with interest of the marriage of Miss Ella Mae Kelly of 20 East Lakeview Ave., Columbus, daughter of Mrs. Charles Frederick Kelly and the late Mr. Kelly, of Washington Court House, to Mr. Loren Reid Stewart of Columbus.

Simplicity marked the quiet wedding ceremony performed on Saturday, August 25, at 4:30 p. m. before the altar of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Westerville by the Reverend Mr. Richard P. Coad. The couple was attended by the bride's sister, Miss Mary Jane Kelly and Mr. Frank Paulus of Columbus.

For her wedding the bride wore a wool knit Kimberly frock fashioned in the autumn silhouette. Accenting the Dior blue shade of the gown, were her hat and gloves of a soft mauve shade and bridal corsage of pink rose buds.

Miss Kelley's fall tailleur of heather-toned English tweed was completed with a small close fitting hat of iridescent sequins and navy blue accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of red roses with small flowers blending to shades of lavender and purple.

Mr. Stewart, the son of Mrs. John W. Stewart of Columbus, is also a former resident of Washington C. H. and has a number of relatives and many friends in Fayette County. He is construction superintendent with the Trapp Construction Company in Columbus.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart entertained the wedding attendants and Mrs. Paulus at dinner in their new suburban home near Westerville. Later in the evening they left for a short honeymoon trip. After September 2nd, they will be home at 7080 Lee Rd., R. R. 3, Westerville.

Guests Included At Family Night

Mr. and Mrs. Ansel Kirkpatrick and Mr. and Mrs. William Himmel-spach made up the committee as hosts and hostesses for the regular informal family night covered dish dinner at the Washington Country Club Monday evening.

An unusually large group of members and their families enjoyed the delicious meal served from a buffet table and adding to an evening of visiting was informal games of canasta with several ladies participating.

Mrs. William Davis and son Bill III of Hilliards and Miss Arvilla Kochensparger of Port Clinton were included as guests.

Rev. Petersons Are Guests at Dellinger Home

Rev. and Mrs. Alan Peterson and sons Andrew and John, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dellinger.

For the past two years Rev. Peterson has been an army chaplain in Alaska. He was a former pastor of the McNai Memorial and Bloomingburg Presbyterian churches and has accepted a pastorate in the Presbyterian Church in Cleghorn, Iowa, beginning September 2.

On Sunday, additional dinner guests at the Dellinger home were Mrs. Naomi Reif, daughter Lorna Jo, of this city, and Mrs. David Looker and son Douglas, of Kileen, Texas.

During the afternoon several guests called to visit with Rev. and Mrs. Peterson.

Engagement Is Announced Plan September Wedding

MISS GAIL ANN GROFF

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Groff of Madison Mills, announce the engagement of their daughter Gail Ann, to Mr. Randall Barger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Barger, also of Madison Mills.

Both the bride to be and the prospective bridegroom, are graduates of Madison Mills High School.

Miss Groff is associated with the Grange Mutual Casualty Insurance Company in Columbus. And Mr. Barger, is employed at the Jeffrey Manufacturing Company in Columbus.

A late September wedding is being planned by the couple.

Four Ladies Return after Extended Trip

Miss Norma Dodd and Mrs. Rag-na Stenmar of this city accompanied by Miss Alta Barr of Springfield and Miss Emma Dodd of Xenia have just returned from a vacation trip more than six weeks.

They motored to the west coast by Denver, the Royal Gorge, Uray and Silverton, Colorado, Virginia City and Carson City, Nevada.

They sailed from San Francisco on the S. S. Lurline for a twenty-three day trip to the Hawaiian Islands, where they were guests at the Princess Kaiulani Hotel, on Waikiki Beach. While there they toured the four islands, Kauai, Maui, Hawaii and Oahu.

On the return trip from San Francisco, they traveled the coast highway of California seeing Monterey and Carmel By the Sea, to Hollywood, where they saw the Lawrence Welk, program televised.

Enroute eastward they came through the desert resort at Palm Springs and beautiful Oak Creek Canyon in Arizona. They covered 7,000 miles by car and enjoyed plane rides from island to island.

Youth Group Holds Meeting

Mary Ann and Don Creamer entertained members of the Youth Fellowship of Jeffersonville Methodist Church Sunday evening and included the advisor Mrs. Williamson, at a delightful picnic.

Preceding the picnic supper served on the lawn, a recreation period consisting of the games of badminton, croquet and softball provided a most enjoyable hour.

Later, the devotional period was in charge of Misses Sara Sue Davidson and Nancy Allen.

Plans were also made for the next meeting on Sunday, Sept. 9 which will include installation of the elected officers who are as follows: Robert Rings, president; Roger Mason, vice president; Patty Stoddard, recording secretary; Martha Jane Walls, corresponding secretary; Beverly Sears, treasurer.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Halliday, daughter Linda and son, Johnny, are home from a vacation and among the interesting places visited were Lake Louise, Banff, Yellowstone National Park and the Black Hills.

Miss Linda R. Lovell has returned home after spending the past two months at Lake Chautauqua, New York.

Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Persinger and family, have just returned from their summer home at Chaska Beach, Lake Erie, where they spent the past month.

Mrs. William E. Davis and son, Bill III, of Hilliards, returned to their home Tuesday after a two week's visit with Mrs. Davis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Enslin.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Burden and Mr. and Mrs. David Porter of Jeffersonville, are home after a week's motoring trip through Michigan and Indiana where they stopped briefly at interesting points.

Mrs. Alma L. Noble and Miss Mabel E. Noble of 749 High St., are vacationing at Virginia Beach, Virginia, where they are guests at the Martha Washington Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rankin and son Tom, have returned from a two weeks fishing trip on Lake Wabatonushi, in Ontario, Canada. They were guests at Camp Lock-alsh, which is located on the lake shore.

Mr. Amias Taylor left Monday by plane to return to his home in Los Angeles, California, after a ten day visit with his sisters, Mrs.

er; John Ritenour, Youth Fund treasurer; Gayle Morrow, publicity; Sara Sue Davidson, Christian Faith; Rev. Williamson, advisor of Christian Faith; Don Baird, chairman of Christian Witness; Mrs. V. L. Wiseman advisor; Nancy Allen, chairman of Christian Citizenship; Advisor, Mrs. Walter Hurd; Marty Christopherson, chairman of Christian Fellowship; Mrs. Williamson, advisor; Natalie Allen, David Morrow, recreation leaders; Ralph Heaton, advisor; Sara Sue Davidson, pianist, assistants, Mary Ann Creamer and Carolyn Kay Ritenour; Mary Vince, Bobby Roll, Eddie Miller and Don Creamer, librarians.

Serve iced coffee topped with whipped cream flavored with a little vanilla.

Power, Irrigation Dam Expected To Make Haiti "Have" Nation

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti — An economic revolution is sweeping the Caribbean as island governments wage fierce, unrelenting battles against poverty, lack of sanitation, primitive living conditions and dire want.

Latest country to grasp its own bootstraps and begin lifting towards self sufficiency in agriculture and industry is Haiti, the only all - Negro republic in the western hemisphere.

Under able, energetic President Paul V. Magloire, the country already has made vast strides in establishing a firm foundation for future development. Magloire's most ambitious project is a flood control, irrigation and power project that will change the economy and geographical face of this tourist mecca.

About 45 miles from Port-au-Prince, over tortuous mountain roads, the Brown & Root Co. of Houston is constructing the two-phase, $25,000,000 Artibonite Valley project.

The undertaking, vital to the future growth of Haiti, is 80 per cent financed by the Export-Import Bank and 20 per cent by the local government. When completed, all equipment will be left with the Haitian government.

To Haitian farmers in the primitive mountain area, backing into the hills to the border of the neighboring Dominican Republic, the Artibonite River has always been a "road" to market. Down this waterway, they were taking their produce to the plains people even before Columbus.

LASHING BAMBOO poles together for a raft, they floated downstream between sharply rising crags, with their loads of bananas, cotton, coffee or sugar cane. After bartering their goods they would discard the raft and walk back to their small farms.

Today, with their craft bumping against the concrete wall of the Peligre dam, the water disappearing into sluices, they must sell their cargo on the spot for whatever price they can get.

Unable or unwilling to comprehend the fate awaiting their farms, they refuse to sell their acreage to the government. They and their ancestors were there for generations and they will not leave the only homes they know in a food-scarce country.

They refuse to listen when told that soon their land will become the bottom of a reservoir.

Evacuation of the mountain farmers may temporarily hurt the individual, but go they must, for the great good of the island. A controlled flow of water will transform the Artibonite Valley from an eroded, lifeless land to a food-producing area.

The Artibonite Valley project

is divided into two parts — the dam at Peligre and the irrigation system, with headquarters at Borel.

Began in 1953, when a 47 - mile road was bulldozed through the mountains, the project will be completed in November, 1956. Although comparatively moderate by American standards, the dam has one unique distinction. It carries the highest massive head buttress in the Western hemisphere, 231 feet.

THE DAM will be 1,073 feet long, with a storage capacity of 390,000 acre feet, in a reservoir area of 77,500 acres. The power capacity will be 30,000 kilowatts.

Several miles below the massive dam is the irrigation system. A constant water level is planned for 85,000 acres through 270 miles of canals, 180 miles of drains and 30 miles of floodways.

The Texas company has brought in 125 foreigners to supervise the job and instruct the 2,800 Haitian workers. The greater majority of the foreigners, of course, are Texans, including the sunburned project manager, Howard Payne, his general superintendent, T. T. Williams and his 6-foot-2 chief safety-security director, Tom Brady. The team of Payne and Williams has worked together all over the world, raising dams in Pakistan and India, among others.

According to Payne, the Haitians have proved adept in handling heavy road equipment. They operate bulldozers, derricks and general construction machinery with a facility far in excess to that of natives in India and other Asiatic countries.

Foreigners live in two camps, one at Borel and one at the dam site, which is called The Plateau. Here there are 45 families. They live in furnished two - bedroom bungalows which rent for $45 a month and in three - bedroom bungalows which rent for $60 a month, utilities included.

A commissary resembling a small American supermarket supplies them with frozen meats and vegetables, whatever fresh vegetables can be secured in the immediate area, and other necessities.

FOR ENTERTAINMENT there are weekly bingo, semi - monthly dances, card parties and movies short few years ago most of the hill people were bartering their goods, seeing little more than $25 in cash throughout the year. They walked about half naked, most of them barefoot. It still is a routine sight to view nude bathers a short distance below the dam.

Attracted by the "high" wages being made by the men, a Haitian town of 6,000 people has sprung up outside the gates of the Peligre dam.

The women sell workers native foods and occasional drinks of a Haitian version of "moonshine." A small drink costs one cent, a large glass five cents, a pint bottle 30 cents.

The safety record on the project has been phenomenal, according to Brady. This, he attributes in large part to the workers' seeming delight in working. There have been only two deaths charged to the job, both traffic fatalities.

ON EACH part of the two-phase project there is a hospital, manned by two doctors and two nurses. Each day there is a long line of hill people, coming with everything from minor bruises to serious illnesses. When surgery is necessary, the operation is performed at no cost to the patient.

Completion of the Artibonite project will become a monument to the progressive government of President Paul V. Magloire.

The first waters to spill over the dam a short time before Magloire leaves office — Haitian Presidents serve only one six-year term — will wash away poverty of generations, changing the small, proud nation from a have-not to a potentially rich exporter of tropical products

Turtle Trapping Market Bullish

HARDIN, Ill. — Turtle trapper Harley Johnson has created a going business.

In one week he trapped and dressed 45 turtles, and local fanciers store the meat in deep freezers.

Johnson has developed a sure-fire system for catching turtles. He makes a trap of poultry netting from two to four feet in height and with a shallow, wide throat. The traps are set at the edge of sloughs and ponds and are submerged to about two thirds of their height, leaving part of the trap out of the water so the turtles can get air. He baits the traps with the carcasses of fresh fish which have been flayed for boning.

Power, Irrigation Dam Expected To Make Haiti "Have" Nation

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti — An economic revolution is sweeping the Caribbean as island governments wage fierce, unrelenting battles against poverty, lack of sanitation, primitive living conditions and dire want.

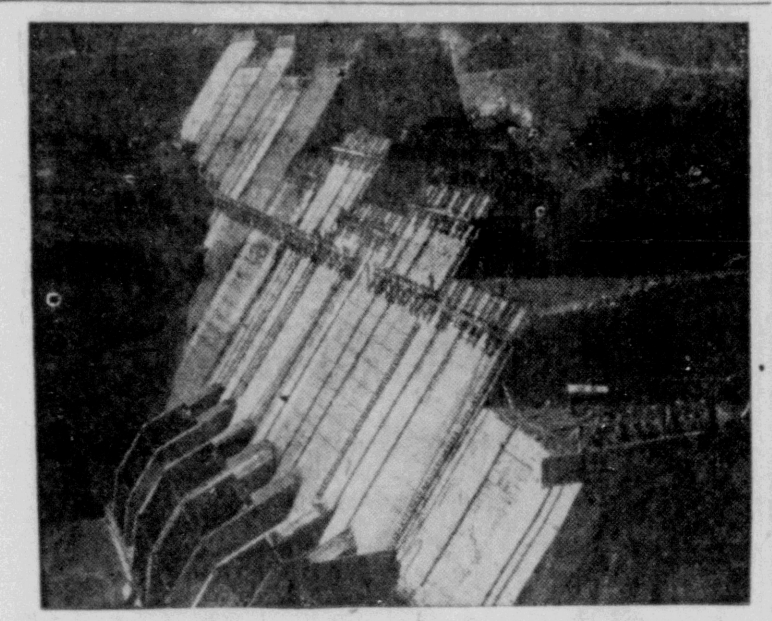

Latest country to grasp its own bootstraps and begin lifting towards self sufficiency in agriculture and industry is Haiti, the only all-Negro republic in the western hemisphere.

Under able, energetic President Paul V. Magloire, the country already has made vast strides in establishing a firm foundation for future development. Magloire's most ambitious project is a flood control, irrigation and power project that will change the economy and geographical face of this tourist mecca.

About 45 miles from Port-au-Prince, over tortuous mountain roads, the Brown & Root Co. of Houston is constructing the two-phase, $25,000,000 Artibonite Valley project.

The undertaking, vital to the future growth of Haiti, is 80 per cent financed by the Export-Import Bank and 20 per cent by the local government. When completed, all equipment will be left with the Haitian government.

To Haitian farmers in the primitive mountain area, backing into the hills to the border of the neighboring Dominican Republic, the

The dam.

Artibonite River has always been a "road" to market. Down this waterway, they were taking their produce to the plains people even before Columbus.

LASHING BAMBOO poles together for a raft, they floated downstream between sharply rising crags, with their loads of bananas, cotton, coffee or sugar cane. After bartering their goods they would discard the raft and walk back to their small farms.

Today, with their craft bumping against the concrete wall of the Peligre dam, the water disappearing into sluices, they must sell their cargo on the spot for whatever price they can get.

Unable or unwilling to comprehend the fate awaiting their farms, they refuse to sell their acreage to the government. They and their ancestors were there for generations and they will not leave the only homes they know in a food-scarce country.

They refuse to listen when told that soon their land will become the bottom of a reservoir.

Evacuation of the mountain farmers may temporarily hurt the individual, but go they must, for the great good of the island. A controlled flow of water will transform the Artibonite Valley from an eroded, lifeless land to a food-producing area.

The Artibonite Valley project

is divided into two parts — the dam at Peligre and the irrigation system, with headquarters at Borel.

Begin in 1953, when a 47-mile road was bulldozed through the mountains, the project will be completed in November, 1956. Although comparatively moderate by American standards, the dam has one unique distinction. It carries the highest massive head buttress in the Western hemisphere, 231 feet.

THE DAM will be 1,073 feet long, with a storage capacity of 390,000 acre feet, in a reservoir area of 77,500 acres. The power capacity will be 30,000 kilowatts.

Several miles below the massive dam is the irrigation system. A constant water level is planned for 85,000 acres through 270 miles of canals, 180 miles of drains and 30 miles of floodways.

The Texas company has brought in 125 foreigners to supervise the job and instruct the 2,800 Haitian workers. The greater majority of the foreigners, of course, are Texans, including the subproject manager, Howard Payne, his general superintendent, T. T. Williams and his 6-foot-2 chief safety-security director, Tom Brady. The team of Payne and Williams has worked together all over the world, raising dams in Pakistan and India, among others.

According to Payne, the Haitians have proved adept in handling heavy road equipment. They operate bulldozers, derricks and general construction machinery with a facility far in excess to that of natives in India and other Asiatic countries.

Foreigners live in two camps, one at Borel and one at the dam site, which is called The Plateau. Here there are 45 families. They live in furnished two-bedroom bungalows which rent for $45 a month and in three-bedroom bungalows which rent for $60 a month, utilities included.

A commissary resembling a small American supermarket supplies them with frozen meats and vegetables, whatever fresh vegetables can be secured in the immediate area, and other necessities.

Sheppard Plea To Be Given To High Court

CLEVELAND (AP)—Attorneys for Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard are expected to file an appeal today in the U. S. Supreme Court from his conviction for second-degree murder in the killing of his wife.

Defense counsel William J. Corrigan left Cleveland Monday night for Washington with a petition asking the high court to review the case.

Sheppard, now serving a life term in the Ohio penitentiary, was convicted by a jury on Dec. 21, 1954, of the bludgeoning slaying of his wife, Marilyn, on the previous July 4. Now 32, Sheppard will be eligible for parole in nine more years.

He and his family have spent about $70,000 in his defense, including a futile appeal to the Ohio Supreme Court.

In their petition to the nation's highest court, defense attorneys will claim Sheppard was unfairly convicted because of publicity by trial Judge Edward Blythin, inflammatory and hysterical publicity, error by bailiffs in allowing jurors to make phone calls during deliberations, barring of defense investigators from the murder home, and failure of the state Supreme Court to pass on constitutional questions.

They also claim the state Supreme Court was illegally constituted when it heard the case because Chief Justice Carl V. Weygant disqualified himself and appointed his own substitute.

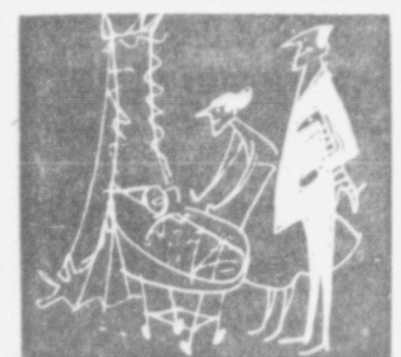

Aircraft Survives Engine Failure

OTIS AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP)—An Air Force plane with 19 men aboard lost the use of two of its four engines while 450 miles at sea Monday night, but the damage was repaired in flight.

The engines of the giant Constellation radar plane apparently cut because of a short circuit, a failing, Air Force men said, which was repaired from within the plane.

The Air Force plane, which was on a routine patrol, landed safely.

Three-Man Subcommittee To Study Possible Bypass Locations in Area

The Fayette County Highway Committee, in anticipation of future federal-state plans to relocate major interstate arteries in the immediate Washington, C. H. area, Monday called on three of its own members to make a detailed study of possible bypass locations.

Named to prepare the survey, designed to protect the interests of the city and county if and when official plans are formulated for relocation of major routes in this area, are County Engineer Charles Wagner, Charles Ferguson and City Manager James F. Parkinson.

The subcommittee was appointed by City Councilman Ben Norris

who served as temporary chairman of the recently named Highway Committee at an organization meeting held in the Chamber of Commerce headquarters. He was acting for Walter Morrow, committee chairman, who was out of the city.

THE SUBCOMMITTEE'S suggestions, to be supplemented by aerial surveys, traffic counts and origin and destination surveys, will be turned over to the Ohio Department of Highways as a cooperative gesture. All members of the subcommittee are engineers.

No bypass plans have gone as far as the state highway department's drafting boards, but the big federal road building program includes conversion of many interstate highways to limited access status, bypassing heavily populated areas. The CCC Highway is expected to have high priority in future planning.

Completely unofficial is a recurrent report that the CCC bypass may be built north of the city on a line between Wilson's curve, two miles east, and Jasper Mills, four miles west.

There have been other rumors that a bypass south of the city might be considered because of the interchange possibilities—particularly as they affect Routes 22 and 62.

Others attending Monday's meeting were Tom Mark, C. of C. president who named the committee; County Commissioner Cliff Hughes and State Representative Virgil Perrill.

Sheppard Plea To Be Given To High Court

CLEVELAND (AP)—Attorneys for Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard are expected to file an appeal today in the U. S. Supreme Court from his conviction for second-degree murder in the killing of his wife.

Defense counsel William J. Corrigan left Cleveland Monday night for Washington with a petition asking the high court to review the case.

Sheppard, now serving a life term in the Ohio penitentiary, was convicted by a jury on Dec. 21, 1954, of the bludgeoning slaying of his wife, Marilyn, on the previous July 4. Now 32, Sheppard will be eligible for parole in nine more years.

He and his family have spent about $70,000 in his defense, including a futile appeal to the Ohio Supreme Court.

In their petition to the nation's highest court, defense attorneys will claim Sheppard was unfairly convicted because of publicity by trial Judge Edward Blythin, inflammatory and hysterical publicity, error by bailiffs in allowing jurors to make phone calls during deliberations, barring of defense investigators from the murder home, and failure of the state Supreme Court to pass on constitutional questions.

They also claim the state Supreme Court was illegally constituted when it heard the case because Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt disqualified himself and appointed his own substitute.

Aircraft Survives Engine Failure

OTIS AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP)—An Air Force plane with 19 men aboard lost the use of two of its four engines while 450 miles at sea Monday night, but the damage was repaired in flight.

The engines of the giant Constellation radar plane apparently cut because of a short circuit, a failing, Air Force men said, which was repaired from within the plane.

The Air Force plane, which was on a routine patrol, landed safely.

Three-Man Subcommittee To Study Possible Bypass Locations in Area

The Fayette County Highway Committee, in anticipation of future federal-state plans to relocate major interstate arteries in the immediate Washington, C. H. area, Monday called on three of its own members to make a detailed study of possible bypass locations.

Named to prepare the survey, designed to protect the interests of the city and county if and when official plans are formulated for relocation of major routes in this area, are County Engineer Charles Wagner, Charles Ferguson and City Manager James F. Parkinson.

The subcommittee was appointed by City Councilman Ben Norris

who served as temporary chairman of the recently named Highway Committee at an organization meeting held in the Chamber of Commerce headquarters. He was acting for Walter Morrow, committee chairman, who was out of the city.

Completely unofficial is a recurrent report that the CCC bypass may be built north of the city on a line between Wilson's curve, two miles east, and Jasper Mills, four miles west.

There have been other rumors that a bypass south of the city might be considered because of the interchange possibilities—particularly as they affect Routes 22 and 62.

Others attending Monday's meeting were Tom Mark, C. of C. president who named the committee; County Commissioner Cliff Hughes and State Representative Virgil Perrill.

Today's News in Brief

Truce Seen Ended By Cypriot Bomb

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—The end of an 11-day truce proclaimed by the Greek Cypriot underground was punctuated today by a bombing at the east coast town of Larnaca.

Authorities said the bomb damaged a house occupied by a Greek family but there were no casualties. The bombing was blamed on EOKA, the extremist underground that called the truce.

Meanwhile, the British placed Dr. Themistocles Dervis, Greek mayor of Nicosia under house arrest and searched his home and office.

They said they were investigating the mayor "as a result of information received" but did not elaborate. The mayor is an outspoken advocate of union with Greece.

Authorities also announced six convicted EOKA members were taken from Nicosia's central prison and flown to Britain to serve out the rest of their sentences.

They said the six had terrorized both their wardens and other prisoners. One convicted EOKA under life sentence escaped from the prison Monday night.

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP)—Tsugio Yue's recently organized marine salvage company removed $35,000 worth of U. S. Navy cable from the bottom of Tokyo Bay without getting Navy consent.

Yue, 49, and his six associates in the now defunct Fuji Salvage

Co., were jailed today on charges of grand larceny.

LONDON (AP)—The British Brewers Assn. reported today that Britons drank 902 million gallons of beer in 1955. That's enough to float 89 battleships the size of the royal navy's 44,500-ton Vanguard. The United States, which has three times Britain's population, led the world with a consumption of 2,167,000,000 gallons. World consumption was placed at 6,520,000,000 gallons.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Typhoon Charlotte was centered about 500 miles southeast of Formosa today and headed in the general direction of this Chinese Nationalist island. Winds of 90 miles an hour were reported near the center of the typhoon.

Campanella Hits To Spark Win Over Milwaukee

Brooklyn Sure Now It Can Retain League Pennant

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Roy Campanella, Brooklyn's big catcher who wins the most valuable player award every other season and then slumps in between, is following the same old script again. But with one ad lib from his bat, the Dodgers are surer than ever they'll retain the National League pennant.

Campy, at 35, the highest paid Dodger ever, won the NL's MVP award in 1951, '53 and '55. But he was a "bust" in '50, '52 and '54.

Things have been so bad for the big guy this season, Milwaukee decided to walk Jackie Robinson — loading the bases with two out — to get to Campy with the score tied 3-1 in the eighth inning Monday. The Braves were speculating in percentages. Campy hadn't hit in his last 11 at bats.

He now has one hit in his last 12 at bats — a lined single that scored three runs and lifted the Dodgers into a 6-3 victory and whittled the Braves' first-place edge to two games once more.

It was the only game scheduled in the NL, leaving the Brooks two full games ahead of third place Cincinnati.

In the only American League game scheduled, Cleveland bopped Washington 5-2 as Bob Lemon hung up his 19th lifetime victory.

Campanella's single salvaged a split in the two-game set for the second place Dodgers and gave them a victory in their last game of the season in Milwaukee for a 4-7 record at County Stadium. It was there that the Dodgers had nailed the 1953 and 1955 pennants with victories on their last visit of the season.

This one carried no such guarantee. But after coming back from a 3-0 deficit, the Brooks are sure they've got the flag in the sack. The Braves are still the team to beat, but now just one game back in the "lost" column the Brooklyn feel they can do it — helped along by an "at home" schedule to end the season. They figured they needed "only six or seven" victories on their current 11-game finale in the West this season and now they've won five of the first seven, with only four games left at Chicago against the last place Cubs.

Joe Adcock's 33rd home run, and his 11th against Brooklyn, and Bobby Thomson's 18th built the 2-0 Milwaukee lead against 20-game winner Don Newcombe, who has finished only one of his last four pitching starts, left for a pinch-hitter because of a tummy ache in the sixth when Duke Snider hit his 35th homer, a two-run shot, off Gene Conley to start the Brook revival.

Kluszewski Still Confident Redlegs Can Capture Flag

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati's Redlegs are still generating pennant fever, but it's cooled off a little with the Reds in third place, four games away from the National League leaders.

Manager Birdie Tebbetts is still concentrating on each game instead of looking further ahead, but the players have considerable confidence in getting a flag.

"I think we can win it," slugger Ted Kluszewski said. "We have been on top and close all season. We know what it's like and we can smell it."

Third place Cincinnati was idle Monday but moved up to four games away from the league-leading Milwaukee Braves on second place Brooklyn's 6-3 win over the Braves.

Tackle Irv Schexnayder is a welcome addition to the Tulane football team. He hails from Welcome, La.

Golf's 19th Hole

With the days getting shorter and the winter getting nearer, golf at the Country Club here is showing no signs of a let-up — if anything, it is increasing.

Although the championship tournaments, with their several flights, are now approaching the crucial stage and drawing a lot of interest, there is still time for the special events that Tony Capuana, the club pro, has been working into the program all summer.

The next special is slated for Sept. 2, when a best team tournament is to be played. Capuana noted that "everybody's welcome," but did not go into details. However, a full field is expected to stand in line to tee off when the time comes.

THIS AND THAT from the pro's notebook:
Roger McLean missed a hole-in-one by only two inches when he dropped his drive on the No. 5 green.

Broad shouldered John Petty sent his drive hole high on the No. 7 green, nearly 400 yards from the tee. Incidentally, he is a former

Brays Win Easily From Good Hope

Bray's boys had little trouble in turning back the Good Hope outfit, 16-4, in a Babe Ruth League game at the city park Monday evening.

A 9-run rampage in the first inning, followed by a 5-run spree in the second by the Brays, just about took all the starch out of the visitors.

Gene O'Call led the winning attack with 3 hits in 5 trips and two of them were doubles.

Southworth, the pitcher who bats in the clean - up position for the Brays, fanned 11 and walked only 4 as he held the usually potent Good Hope crew to 5 hits.

Grim and Brown, who shared the mound chores for Good Hope, got 3 of their team's 5 hits—2 by Grim and 1 by Brown.

Beulah Park Fall Races To Open Thursday

Beulah Park—Thoroughbred racing returns to central Ohio Thursday with the opening of the 44-day meeting at Beulah Park and every prospect points to a successful session.

Demand for stall space has been greater than ever before, indicating that the quality of the sport will be improved.

Meanwhile the association has completed a program of improvements which should provide the patrons with many additional comforts and conveniences.

An extension of the grandstand and the erection of a bleacher section have provided some 1,500 additional seats and with these changes, additional muel windows have been installed.

With a Saturday and the Labor Day holiday in the first week of racing, Beulah Park officials, headed by Robert J. Dienst, president and general manager, are optimistic that the 44-day session will get off to a good start and, because of the long run, will build steadily.

LAST YEAR'S attendance of 230,743 for 44 days, run in two meetings, stands as the all-time high for this course but this record may be in danger if the track gets a fair share of good racing weather.

Most of the high mutuel marks were set in 1954 when the average for 42 days was $258,191, the highest single day mark of $482,722 was established and the high single race total of $69,909 was set.

Beulah Park this season will employ the film patrol to give the stewards a complete motion picture record of each race run, to be studied in the event of foul claims and later to point out to riders mistakes that have been made in the various races. Also in use for the first time will be the Pinkerton Detective Agency's horse identification system.

Post time for weekdays will be 2:30 p. m. and on Saturdays and holidays, the first event will be run at 2:15 p. m.

John Netherlands, a steward and Alfred Bellow, the starter, are newcomers to the list of Beulah Park officials this season.

Oil Capitol and Nashua are the only horses to win Hialeah's two big races — the Flamingo and the Widener.

Lion Grid Squad Now Has 48 Boys

19 Others Drop Out After Stiff Drills

The stiff pace of the Blue Lions' first week of football practice has largely eliminated the necessity of cutting the squad.

Nineteen hopefuls have dropped from the squad, including one letterman. This leaves a present squad of 48.

The reason for the grueling pace, says head Coach Fred Domenico, is "to be at mid - season peak by the beginning of the season."

The Lions squad already has scrimmaged once. The boys worked out against the Columbus Aquinas High School on Saturday, exchanging two touchdowns for three by the Aquinas team.

Coach Domenico hopes to have a scrimmage Friday but plans for it have not been completed.

Domenico says he is pleased with the way the team is shaping up

Frisco Captain Gets Army Call

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — K. C. Jones, captain and playmaker of the national collegiate champion San Francisco basketball team, will be inducted into the Army Thursday.

An Army spokesman said Jones' service will not interfere with his place on the U. S. Olympic basketball team.

A good part of the St. John's University basketball team will be a family affair this season. The roster includes brothers Hal and Bernie Pascal and cousins Dick Duckett and Bill Chrystal.

Seals Nose Out Jeff To Hold League Lead

The Seals beat the Jeffersonville boys 5 to 4 in Babe Ruth League competition at Jeffersonville Monday night.

The game was played closely until the third inning when the Jeffersonville crew scored three runs via errors and walks. Seals pitcher Ronnie Wilt buckled down after that and ended up with a 2-hit ball game.

His teammates supported him strongly, coming back in the sixth inning with 2 runs to take the ball game.

This gives the league leading Seals an 11-5 final record.

These two teams will meet in an extra ball game Wednesday at 5:30 p. m. in City Park.

Brays Win Easily From Good Hope

Bray's boys had little trouble in turning back the Good Hope outfit, 16-4, in a Babe Ruth League game at the city park Monday evening.

A 9-run rampage in the first inning, followed by a 5-run spree in the second by the Brays, just about took all the starch out of the visitors.

Gene O'Call led the winning attack with 3 hits in 5 trips and two of them were doubles.

Southworth, the pitcher who bats in the clean — up position for the Brays, fanned 11 and walked only 4 as he held the usually potent Good Hope crew to 5 hits.

Grim and Brown, who shared the mound chores for Good Hope, got 3 of their team's 5 hits—2 by Grim and 1 by Brown.

Beulah Park Fall Races To Open Thursday

Beulah Park—Thoroughbred racing returns to central Ohio Thursday with the opening of the 44-day meeting at Beulah Park and every prospect points to a successful session.

Demand for stall space has been greater than ever before, indicating that the quality of the sport will be improved.

Meanwhile the association has completed a program of improvements which should provide the patrons with many additional comforts and conveniences.

An extension of the grandstand and the erection of a bleacher section have provided some 1,500 additional seats and with these changes, additional muel windows have been installed.

With a Saturday and the Labor Day holiday in the first week of racing, Beulah Park officials, headed by Robert J. Dienst, president and general manager, are optimistic that the 44-day session will get off to a good start and, because of the long run, will build steadily.

LAST YEAR'S attendance of 230,743 for 44 days, run in two meetings, stands as the all-time high for this course but this record may be in danger if the track gets a fair share of good racing weather.

Most of the high mutuel marks were set in 1954 when the average for 42 days was $258,191, the highest single day mark of $482,722 was established and the high single race total of $69,909 was set.

Beulah Park this season will employ the film patrol to give the stewards a complete motion picture record of each race run, to be studied in the event of foul claims and later to point out to riders, mistakes that have been made in the various races. Also in use for the first time will be the Pinkerton Detective Agency's horse identification system.

Post time for weekdays will be 2:30 p. m. and on Saturdays and holidays, the first event will be run at 2:15 p. m.

John Netherese, a steward and Alfred Bellew, the starter, are newcomers to the list of Beulah Park officials this season.

Oil Capitol and Nashua are the only horses to win Hialeah's two big races — the Flamingo and the Widener.

AAA ROAD TESTS SHOW:

Blue Sunoco averages 7.67 more miles per dollar than 12 other premiums

On $3.00 worth of Blue Sunoco, test cars were driven out of town till they ran dry. They couldn't get back on $3.00 worth of any of the other premium gasolines tested. They never got home! Blue Sunoco averaged 23.0 miles farther!

These tests were conducted by the American Automobile Association in 6 cities under normal city-country driving conditions—using typical drivers in late model high-compression cars whose manufacturers recommend a premium gasoline.

Results of tests confirm, once again, the fact that Blue Sunoco is America's greatest gasoline value. Why not take advantage of it—get more miles for your gasoline dollar? Stop in at your neighborhood Sunoco dealer's today, and try a tankful of Blue Sunoco.

It's the gasoline that meets today's new higher premium octane standards and sells at regular gas price.

Lion Grid Squad Now Has 48 Boys

19 Others Drop Out After Stiff Drills

The stiff pace of the Blue Lions' first week of football practice has largely eliminated the necessity of cutting the squad.

Nineteen hopefuls have dropped from the squad, including one letterman. This leaves a present squad of 48.

The reason for the grueling pace, says head Coach Fred Domenico, is "to be at mid-season peak by the beginning of the season."

The Lions squad already has scrimmaged once. The boys worked out against the Columbus Aquinas High School on Saturday, exchanging two touchdowns for three by the Aquinas team.

Coach Domenico hopes to have a scrimmage Friday but plans for it have not been completed.

Domenico says he is pleased with the way the team is shaping up

Frisco Captain Gets Army Call

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — K. C. Jones, captain and playmaker of the national collegiate champion San Francisco basketball team, will be inducted into the Army Thursday.

An Army spokesman said Jones' service will not interfere with his place on the U. S. Olympic basketball team.

A good part of the St. John's University basketball team will be a family affair this season. The roster includes brothers Hal and Bernie Pascal and cousins Dick Duckett and Bill Chrystal.

Seals Nose Out Jeff To Hold League Lead

The Seals beat the Jeffersonville boys 5 to 4 in Babe Ruth League competition at Jeffersonville Monday night.

The game was played closely until the third inning when the Jeffersonville crew scored three runs via errors and walks. Seals pitcher Ronnie Willt buckled down after that and ended up with a 2-hit ball game.

His teammates supported him strongly, coming back in the sixth inning with 2 runs to take the ball game.

This gives the league leading Seals an 11-5 final record.

These two teams will meet in an extra ball game Wednesday at 5:30 p. m. in City Park.

Sec Middleweight Title Bout Near

CHICAGO (AP) — Officials of the International Boxing Club expect to iron out details today for a middleweight title fight between champion Ray Robinson and Challenger Gene Fullmer.

Truman Gibson, secretary of the IBC, said Robinson would be contacted in New York today after learning that Sugar Ray had capitulated to IBC President Jim Norris.

Robinson two weeks ago said he was through with Norris and the IBC because he couldn't get enough money from them but Monday announced "I'm ready, willing and able to defend my title on Sept. 25 or a later date at Yankee Stadium."

Gibson and Norris returned to Chicago Monday night after giving Robinson a deadline to meet "our offer."

Robinson had demanded 47½ per cent of the net plus 60 per cent of all money received from theater or home television with a guarantee of $60,000.

He's Victim Of
Too Much Sleep

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Oh, sleep may be a gentle thing, beloved from pole to pole, but not by James Carroll. Not after Monday.
Carroll, 42, fell asleep in the booth of a Norfolk tavern. When he awoke a little while later, he found that a light-fingered patron had removed $19 from his pockets.
Worse yet, Carroll always keeps a little reserve cash hidden in his shoes, and the thief had taken the shoes, too-right off his feet.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

New Teen Stunt

PORT PERRY, Ont. (P)—Teen-agers have cooked up a new death-defying game. Boys line up their friends on the highway and then drive their cars toward the girls at high speed. The last girl to break ranks is the "winner." The chief constable has promised to stop "this nonsense."

Charitable Foundation Board Plans Brochure Distribution

At a meeting of the board of trustees of The Fayette County Charitable Foundation Monday night in the hearing room of the Probate Court, action was taken to make distribution of brochures recently printed for this corporation to inform the general public of its purposes and facilities.

A report also was made by a special committee headed by L. M. Hayes on the expenditure of $240 used to send 16 deserving youths to summer camps.

These young people were sent to various camps of their choice which included 4-H camps, a Presbyterian Camp at Wooster, a Methodist Camp at Sabina and the St. Joseph Catholic Camp at Columbus.

This action was taken in spending a part of a fund donated for this purpose by one individual who had requested his contribution to be used in this manner.

THE FIRST to receive copies of the brochure will be financial institutions and attorneys of the county on the theory that in many cases banks and attorneys are usually consulted when any individual wishes to decide how to make a bequest for county welfare or county improvements of some nature.

Later an effort will be made to get the objectives of this foundation before individuals of the county who may desire to make an immediate donation or a bequest for public benefit.

The Charitable Foundation of Fayette County, as outlined by its officials, and stated in the brochure, is a community trust established for the permanent administration of funds placed in its care by both large and small contributors for the general advancement of the citizens of the county.

The income of the Foundation will be used in the fields of health, social welfare, education, recreation, culture or any specific or general purpose desired by the donor.

THE ORGANIZATION has been incorporated by an interested group of Fayette Countyans who declare they believe that such a trust might be used by individuals, corporations, associations, firms, or others, as an avenue whereby charitable contributions and bequests could be put to use for the greatest good of this county and its inhabitants.

It provides an efficient machinery for managing the gift, and the continuing judgment of an organized group of experienced and public-spirited citizens for determining its use.

Its constitution and by-laws provide that its funds will consist not alone of the gifts of a single individual or family. They may be also, the union of many small and medium-sized gifts left at different times by various donors.

POTENTIAL contributors, who, in the absence of such an organization, might feel that their gift alone would be insufficient to set up a separate trust, can now use the general framework of the Foundation for their charitable purpose, and while maintaining separate identity, can have the gift used with others in accomplishing a larger purpose.

Donors may designate a fund as a memorial in such name as they desire, and may provide for separate administration of such fund in the Foundation.

Any contributor may designate his preference for a manner in which his donation will be used and such wish will be observed by the trustees until changing conditions make such purpose unnecessary, undesirable, impractical, or impossible.

Trustees of the Foundation serve without compensation and change from time to time through a rotation of appointments.

New Assistant Manager For Ward Store Here

Bill D'Andrea Tuesday took over the position of assistant manager of the Montgomery Ward Store here.

He succeeds John Goudy, who was transferred to the company's store in Portsmouth as assistant manager.

D'Andrea, a native of Clarksburg, W. Va., came here after four years in the company's Sidney store. Previously, he had been in the Lima store for a short time after starting with the company.

D'Andrea said he hoped Mrs. D'Andrea and their son and daughter, Bill III, 3, and Andrea, 1, would be settled in their home here in a couple of weeks.

George Purple is the manager of the store here.

Dem Nominee for Governor Is Center of New Illinois Upset

CHICAGO (AP) — Herbert C. Paschen, still undecided whether to withdraw as Democratic nominee for governor, is to appear before the Cook County grand jury today to explain a controversial $29,000 employees fund in the Cook County treasurer's office, which he heads.

Two investigators for the U. S. Senate banking and currency committee, meanwhile, announced they also plan to question the 61-year-old politician about the employees fund solicited from bankers.

Robert A. Wallace, committee staff director, and committee counsel Matthew Hale, said they are seeking to determine if national banks violated federal law by contributing to campaign funds.

Paschen said he ordered money in the fund returned to contributors. He has fired two aides who administered the fund.

Disclosure of the fund has brought pressure from state Democratic leaders for Paschen to quit his race for governor. The nominee said Sunday he would decide in "the next two days" whether he will remain in the Nov. 6 contest against Republican Gov. William G. Stratton.

Paschen alone, as winner of the April primary election, can decide whether to continue in the race or quit. Should he withdraw, the vacancy would be filled only by vote of the full Democratic state committee.

Paschen has denied wrongdoing in connection with the fund. He said it was used for the welfare of his office's employees.

In other developments, a woman taxpayer who sued former Republican State Auditor Orville E. Hodge for return of an estimated 1 1/2 million dollars in embezzled state funds, filed another suit for an accounting from Paschen.

In a Superior Court action Monday, Mrs. Valentine Sharpe of suburban Evanston asked that a determination be made whether Paschen owed the county any money. She asked that a judgment for the amount be ordered if he does.

Hodge now is serving a 12 to 15 year prison term after pleading guilty to charges stemming from the misappropriation of funds in a million dollar scandal in his office.

Mural Lighting Study Planned

Specialist To Come Here from Dayton

Within the next few days The Dayton Power and Light Co. will send one of their top lighting engineers here from Dayton to confer with the committee named by the county commissioners Monday to plan for the proper illumination and marking the Archibald M. Willard murals in the Fayette County Courthouse. The paintings already are attracting widespread attention.

Committee members conferred Monday afternoon with A. E. Weatherly, manager of the Washington C. H. District of The Dayton Power and Light Co., who readily agreed to have one of the company's experts to come here and make recommendations for proper lighting for the paintings.

Monday afternoon Dr. G. A. Kirk, president of Columbia University, New York City, and Mrs. Kirk, spent a half hour inspecting and admiring the murals. It was the first time they had seen the murals for many years, and both expressed their admiration for them.

Research in connection with the paintings had brought to light just one reference to the fresco and painting work at the courthouse as it was being completed. As entry in the commissioner's journal early in 1885 discloses that a $2,445 contract for painting and fresco work was let to Cook Brothers.

Whether this included cost of the murals is not known.

It is also believed that the same artist painted the three figures back of the judges' bench in the Common Pleas Court Room, which were retouched during renovation of the courthouse a number of years ago.

Final Tributes Paid To Howard Hopkins

Funeral services for Howard Hopkins, 59, a prominent farmer of the Madison Mills community all his life, were held at the Madison Mills Methodist Church at 2 p. m. Monday.

The Rev. Herbert Ricketts, pastor of the church, conducted the services. He read the Scripture, offered prayer, delivered the funeral sermon and read three hymns.

Mr. Hopkins, a native of the community in which he died, had many friends and was widely known throughout this section.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary Helen Hopkins; a son, Wilbur, at home; a daughter, Mrs. Eleanor Willing of Grove City; a brother, Eugene of Columbus and two sisters, Mrs. Virgil Eggleston of Columbus and Mrs. Geneva Summers of Dayton.

Interment was in the Madison Mills Cemetery under the direction of the Snyder Funeral Home of Mt. Sterling.
